MRS. LILLIENDAHL'S MURDER STORY UNDER FIRE

NO CLUE AS TO IDENTITY OF FEUD VICTIM FOUND IN COUNTY

Murder Mystery Still Unsolved; Many View Body

No Positive Identification Of Man Whose Body Was Found Near New Bedford

OFFICIALS UNABLE TO SECURE CLUES

Believe Murder Victim Found Near New Bedford Was Brought From Distance

Mystery still shrouds the identity of the man who was found foully murdered near New Bedford Sunday morning. Since the body was taken to the Offutt morgue Sunday forenoon it has been viewed by many visitors who came in the hope of being able to identify the remains.

Included in the visitors were officials and others from Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Sharon, Warren, O., and other points. Several thought that they had seen the man before, but were not sufficiently positive to make an identification. Funeral Director Frank Offutt was kept busy until 10 o'clock last night admitting visitors.

Messages Received.

In addition to those who came to the morgue, telephone messages were received by Coroner J. P. Caldwell and County Detective Fleming, asking for a more minute description of the deceased. Those who called on the telephone all had friends missing.

Meanwhile the officers have practically no clues on which to work. The assassins took good care that there would be no clues when they removed the outer clothing of the deceased.

Difficulty in securing an identification leads officials to believe that the body may have been brought a long ways. If the deceased had resided in some of the smaller surrounding cities it is figured that he would be missed by his relatives and that they would have been able to establish his identity.

Brought Long Ways?

It is thought that he might have been brought from as far away as Toledo, Cleveland or Pittsburgh, in which case it would be harder to secure an identification.

Owing to the fact that the body was found less than half a mile from the spot where another man was murdered about three years ago, it is thought that the deed may have been committed by the same parties. There is a similarity in the murders in that both men were killed with knives.

The body is still being held at the Offutt morgue in the hope that an identification may be made.

New Castle Youth Sails For Honolulu

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Dominick Christopher, son of James Christopher of 818 S. Jefferson street, New Castle, Pa., who recently enlisted for service with the coast artillery branch of the regular army, has been assigned to duty with troops in Hawaii, and left New York City today aboard the United States transport "Cambrai" for Honolulu.

Will Sees Need of More Money in Dry Enforcement

(Special To The News)

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 29.—See by the Arizona morning papers that the biggest bunch of drys ever collected are staggering into Washington to try and keep congress from nominating Al Smith.

If he is elected, it will take away millions and millions of dollars now appropriated among them for law enforcement.

It's not more teeth that's wanted in enforcement acts, it's more money.

Arizona is fat and prosperous and all set for another winter's argument on the Dam.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

NEWLY ELECTED COUNTY OFFICERS IN CONFERENCE

Conference of County Commissioners-elect P. O. Elder and Calvin Boyd and County Treasurer-elect Miss Adda J. Smiley was held with the present county commissioners, McCullough, Davis and Matthews, at the county commissioners' office this morning.

The meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the present status of the county business and the projects which are under way and which will be completed during the coming year.

One of the largest projects will be the erection of the new bridge and viaduct at Wampum. County Engineer C. H. Milholland reports that there are a large number of construction companies figuring on the contract. So far he has sent out 32 sets of plans. The bids are to be in the county commissioners' office by December 12. If a satisfactory bid is received it is probable that the contract will be awarded by the present board of county commissioners.

Allow Extentions On Orders Removing Dangerous Crossings

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Time extensions on original orders for removal of three grade crossings were granted today by the public service commission.

The city of Erie was granted an extension until August 1, 1928, for the completion of work in that city and in Mill Creek township.

In the elimination work being done by the Department of Highways in Union township, Washington county, the time was extended from December 31, 1927, to September 1, 1928.

One hundred and fifteen applications were put through the hopper of the naturalization mill at the court house yesterday. A majority of those who were examined passed and will receive citizen papers. Today there are 87 applicants to be examined. It is believed the work will be completed today for the present class.

Wernich's Story In Murder Trial Is Corroborated

Two Witnesses Follow Accused Man To Stand And Give Identical Testimony

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 29.—The testimony of Roy Wernich, 32, of West Brownsville, being tried for the murder of Louis O. Knapp, formerly of Kane, Pa., who was killed with Paul R. Fox at Vestaburg, was corroborated today at the morning session of the trial by two witnesses for the defense who followed the defendant on the stand.

Charles Falsetto testified he aided in carrying Fox to a first aid station. Patsy Ferrello and Falsetto, both of Vestaburg, told the court they saw a little fellow do the shooting just before the murder and that a tall fellow in a light overcoat ran away after Knapp and Fox fell.

Wernich testified late yesterday that Tony Lucetti, who accompanied the two Wernich brothers in delivering moonshine, did the shooting at Vestaburg. Roy also said he ran up the track after the shooting.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 29.—One man was killed and three others seriously injured when an eastbound Big Four freight left the rails at the west edge of the city and overturned a diner and Pullman car on a passenger train today.

M. E. Sullivan, 43, of Medford, Mass., who was in the diner, was killed instantly. R. B. Kidd of Cleveland; Norval Reams of Boston, a porter, and R. A. Gridler of Ludlow, Ky., all of whom were in the diner, were seriously injured.

Sobbing Of Child Leads To Finding Of Canton Tragedy

Child Sobbing And In Half-Starved Condition Gives Clue To Suicide

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Nov. 29. — Attracted by the sobbing of little three-year-old Annannette Mann, Mrs. Anna Bontz, a neighbor who had cared for the child of frequent occasions, discovered the little girl in a half-starved condition, and her parents, John Mann, and Annannette Mann, 24, lying dead on the floor of a bedroom, at the Mann home here, it was learned today.

The tragedy which was pronounced a case of murder and suicide by Coroner T. C. McQuate, occurred Saturday, it was said, but did not come to light until last night.

Republicans Will Name Officers For Coming Congress

VARE AND SMITH SEATING AT ISSUE

Will Be Settled Before Senate Organization Is Effected, Is Belief

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Although holding a paper majority of a single vote in the new senate, the Republicans appeared certain today of organizing the Seventieth Congress when it convenes next Monday.

The process will be an easy one in the house, where the Republicans hold a substantial majority, but in the senate, they can accomplish it only with Democratic votes. The organization of either house or senate carries with it committee chairmanships, the naming of parliamentary officials, considerable patronage and a larger representation on committees. It also includes responsibility for legislation.

Democrats To Aid

The Republicans will be aided in gaining nominal control of the senate by Democratic leaders who do not wish to assume responsibility for legislation in a hostile congress on the eve of a presidential election. The Democrats prefer to have the Republicans remain in titular control, inasmuch as neither party will be able to enact legislation without assistance from the other.

The Republican insurgents, who bolted the party four years ago to elect a Democrat chairman of the powerful Interstate Commerce Committee, apparently planned no such fight this year.

The insurgents appeared ready to go along with the regular Republicans in organizing the senate, as many of their own members now hold high committee assignments under the Republican leadership. The Republicans will meet next Friday to settle committee assignments.

No Bolt Likely

"I haven't heard anything about a bolt," observed Senator Norris (R.) of Neb., insurgent leader. "I heard though that the Democrats don't

Chumbley Issue Is State Stall, Remus Declares

Claims State Has No Concrete Case Against Federal Convict For Perjury

ASKS COURT TO WITHHOLD CHARGE

Indictment Of Chumbley Manufactured Evidence, Is Remus' Allegation

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 29—Indictment on a perjury charge of Vernon R. Chumbley, a Federal convict, now acting as private secretary to George Remus, the bootleg king on trial for the murder of his wife, Imogene, is "nothing more than a weapon of intimidation," employed by the prosecutor's office, Remus charged in a motion made in court today.

"The allegation against Chumbley is not predicated on fact but upon manufactured evidence by Prosecutor Charles P. Taft, and his agent, Franklin Dodge, Jr.," declared Remus.

Dodge, the former dry agent whom Remus accuses of breaking up his home and conspiring to ruin him has been "working under cover," with the prosecutor for days, Remus alleges.

Chumbley has been acting as Remus' secretary, in his "office," on the sixth floor of the jail. He has been drafting Remus' legal documents.

Indicted For Perjury

The indictment of Chumbley was announced in a report given yesterday by the grand jury during a court intermission when the jury was absent. Chumbley was indicted on a perjury charge, as a result of statements made in his deposition November 18, 1925, for use in the Remus divorce case on October 6, 1927. It was on that morning with the divorce case scheduled to be heard, that Remus shot and killed his wife.

"Your honor," said Remus, this morning in making his motion, "the Chumbley deposition has never been read into the Remus divorce case which is no innullity."

"I ask the court to hold such perjury proceedings against Chumbley in abeyance until the final determination of this trial."

Making Arrangements For Mid-Year Graduation For Senior High Class

Preparations are being made at the present time for the first mid-year commencement at the Senior High school, scheduled to take place in the auditorium of that institution on Friday evening, January 27, 1928.

Members of this class have already received their name cards which were ordered some time ago and the matter of selecting and ordering their invitations will be considered soon. The members are also having their pictures for the class annual taken at the present time.

The class will meet in the school auditorium tomorrow and decide on the baccalaureate preacher. The service this commencement will be held in the school auditorium on Sunday evening, January 22.

According to F. L. Orth principal of the school the class will publish an annual at this graduation. He states however, that the book this time will probably be about half the size of the usual June year-book this being necessary because a book of the same size will be issued in June 1928, too.

Other special occasions always celebrated by the senior classes at commencement time will be observed at this time also. These include Class Day and Class Night.

This graduation in January will mark the first of its kind in the history of the local institution.

BOSTON POLICE BATTLE GANG FOR FIVE HOURS

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Boston's crowded south end was in a turmoil for five hours early today as nearly a hundred uniformed policemen bearing all descriptions of firearms battled with a party of men and women, who barricaded themselves in a Wellington street lodging house and defied the whole police department.

Keeping the house covered with a rain of bullets, officers with tear bombs and a sledge hammer finally stormed the besieged place and three negroes and one white woman surrendered.

The trouble started when police were notified that a drunken fight was in progress in the house. A squad of officers who went to investigate were met by a volley of pistol shots. The police returned the fire, and soon reserves were brought out.

At the height of the battle police tossed several gas bombs through a second story window, but the firing broke out from the third story a few minutes later.

Under cover of the fire from police guns, a squad of patrolmen risked their lives and entered the street floor of the house. All doors were barricaded and axes were brought into play.

The shooting from above, however, prevented the officers from going up the barricaded stairs.

Throwing tear bombs ahead of them, police finally rushed the stairways and captured the following:—Mrs. Lillian J. Coyne, 35, white; Mrs. Sadie Polite, 32, negro; Robert Polite, 34, negro, proprietor of the house, and George Brooks, 31, negro, who was wounded by police bullets.

The battle had been on for five hours before the final dash of the police squad ended hostilities.

There was only one casualty on the police side, Patrolman J. W. Gorham, was gassed.

Governor Fisher To Act On Request For Aid To Miners

Governor Indicates He Will Start Inquiry Into Eviction Conditions

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Governor John S. Fisher will make an inquiry into conditions at Indianola, Pa., where union miners allege they are being evicted from their homes before barracks can be constructed for them, he said today.

The governor received a telegram from a group of mothers in Indianola, asking that the governor intercede with the Inland Coal Company, owners of the homes, to postpone the eviction.

The governor indicated he would press an inquiry into the matter at once.

Secure Twenty Five Miles Of Stamps For Holidays

Nearly twenty-five miles of postage stamps or enough if placed end to end to reach from New Castle to Beaver Falls has been secured for the holiday business in the city post office, according to Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford.

In order to be prepared for the big demand for stamps at the Christmas season, Mr. Crawford some weeks ago made an order for over one and a half million of stamps of all denominations. The stamps include sheets of all denominations of stamps from one cent to $1 stamps, although the large majority are of the 2c variety, there being 1,236,720 of these ordered in sheets, books and coils.

Mr. Crawford says that 1,536,720 stamps were ordered for the quarter including the Christmas season. This order included the following of each denomination: 50,000 1c stamps, 50,000 1½c stamps, 1,236,720 2c stamps, 10,000 3c stamps, 20,000 4c stamps, 30,000 5c stamps, 10,000 each of 6, 7, 8, 9, 12, 15 and 20 cent stamps, 30,000 10c stamps, 15,000 10c special delivery and 500 $1 stamps.

State Is Holding "Ace" To Spring Later In Trial, Is Assertion

(International News Service)

COURTHOUSE, MAYS LANDING, N. J., Nov. 29.—While an almost voiceless defense counsel repeatedly scorned its rights of cross-examination, the prosecution in the Lilliendahl murder case today continued its swiftly moving array of witnesses who, in rapid succession, mounted the stand and contributed their bit to undermining the story of Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl.

Troopers, doctors, a police matron, nurses and others have passed rapidly before the state's questioners, each a link in the tightening chain of circumstantial evidence by which the prosecution hopes to prove that Mrs. Lilliendahl and her co-defendant and reputed clandestine lover, Willis Beach, conspired to murder the woman's aged husband.

The ladies hose were a dainty gray, they were also very new, and along the street, that was wet and sogged, the traffic was going through. And now and then as a wheel would skid, the result was a nasty splash, and spouted up like the sad sea waves, with a miniature roar and crash. The lady stood on the sidewalk there, awaiting her chance to cross, but every time she attempted it, she was thrown for considerable loss. Till all at once a huge moving van, came by at a dizzy pace, and scattered water and chunks of mud, and other things into space. And the muddy water, of which they sing, hit the lady's stockings, oh woe, and though she was silent, the words she thought were heated and torrid I know. But such is the penalty it would seem, for wearing stockings of gray, and she hurried home to put others on, its fifty-seven today.

Woman's Venture In Noodle Business Is Proving Big Success

Inspection Days Being Held At Factory At Ellwood City

A 90-pound woman with a million dollar ambition started in her kitchen seven years ago to manufacture noodles with a capital of 85c and now at Ellwood City, Mrs. C. H. Smith has built up a modern factory with a capacity of 25 barrels of noodles a day.

Mrs. Smith has set Thursday of this week as New Castle day when she invites the citizens of New Castle and vicinity to visit and inspect the modern plant that she has at 414 Division street, Ellwood City.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week the factory will be open for visitors and on these inspection days the machinery may be seen in operation, making, drying and packing Mrs. Smith's home-made noodles. The factory will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.. Noodles will be served to all visitors.

The venture that Mrs. Smith started seven years ago in her kitchen has had a wonderful growth. The product of the factory is being introduced all over Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. Ten salesmen and six trucks are now necessary to take care of the demand for these noodles, the receipt of which was first tried out in Mrs. Smith's kitchen just a few years ago.

Meanwhile the army of perfunctory witnesses marched in review as the prosecution laid its foundation for the "fireworks" which it promises will be set off in due time.

mus' motion, announcing he would "take no cognizance" of the petition.

Remus then told the court he wanted the indictment of Chumbley, together with other exhibits, including the Chumbley deposition, read into the records for the purpose of sending a certified copy of the record to Federal Judge John Pollock of the eastern district of Kansas. Chumbley was transferred to Cincinnati by Judge Pollock from Leavenworth.

"Chumbley and I will ask Judge Pollock to cite Prosecutor Taft and others responsible for the perjury indictment for contempt of court," said Remus.

Prosecutor Taft objected and characterized Remus' motion as "junk".

Says Mrs. Remus Boasted.

Mrs. Imogene Remus boasted that she and her alleged sweetheart, Franklin L. Dodge, the former dry agent, would have George Remus deported to Germany "just like he was when he came, with his little oundle on his back," a defense witness, William Mueller, testified at the trial of Remus for wife-murder today. Mueller, caretaker of the 30-room Remus "cream palace" on Price Hill that the one time bootleg king bought for his bride, said he saw Mrs. Remus and Dodge at the home "several times" while Remus was in prison serving a term for violating the prohibition law.

"The beautiful home was stripped when Remus came back," the witness said. "The works of art were gone—the valuable paintings, the marble settees in the swimming pool—everything. They even nailed the door with spikes and Remus had to climb in through the window."

To Have Remus Deported

Describing a conversation he had had with Mrs. Remus, Mueller said she asked him to remove a clock from the wall and he refused point blank. He said he told her he would not remove a thing from the place.

"Why not?" she asked, according to the witness. "Don't be afraid, Mr. Remus will never come back here. We're going to have him deported. He is going back as he came with his little bundle."

Remus came from Germany at the age of three with his parents, poor immigrants. They settled in Chicago. Remus learned the drug business, became an optician, studied law, became a successful criminal lawyer, met the Mrs.R musi he killed and forsook his first wife for her, went into the bootleg business and ran up a business that grossed more than $100,000,000.

Then when he was sent to jail, Remus charges, Dodge stepped in, won the affections of his wife, conspired with her to keep him in jail, plotted to deport him through influence he had in Washington if he got out, and began a systematic campaign to rob Remus of his property and other holdings.

Judge Benton S. Oppenheimer, Cincinnati attorney followed Mueller on the stand.

He testified he was to have acted as an attorney for Remus in the Remus divorce trial that was set for hearing on the date of the killing. He met Remus "very frequently."

"When I was first introduced to Mr. Remus," Judge Oppenheimer testified, "he expressed the opinion the divorce matter would not be of long duration that his wife was loyal to him and that she evidently was acting under bad advice and would return to him.

Students Fined For Collecting Signs

Four New York University Boys Spend Night In Jail For Removing Forestry Signs

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—The Department of Forests and Waters today received a final report on the four New York University students who have been cured of the habit of collecting signs with which to decorate their dormitories.

The four youths were apprehended on the road between Milton and Mifflinburg by a state highway patrolman while they were enroute home from a football game. Their car was loaded with forestry department signs warning against carelessness with fire.

After spending a night in the Lewisburg lockup, the four youths paid a fine of $10 each and $10 in costs. District Forester R. B. Winter, of Mifflinburg reported the youths lost their jaunty air after a night behind bars.

Got Last Glimpse Of Ill-Fated Fliers

Hunter Reports Seeing Plane Flying Low Over Pennsylvania Mountains

By ROBERT L. WIPER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHARLEROI, Pa., Nov. 29. — That he was the last person to sight the U. S. Army airplane carrying the ill-fated pilot E. R. Emory, and mechanic William D. Zollman, whose bodies were found in the wreckage of their plane in the Uniontown mountains, was revealed today by J. W. Latchem, prominent Charleroi business man upon his return here from a trip which carried him into the dense Summit woodland.

Latchem, on a prospecting trip with Ike Haines, of Higginsville, W. Va., had pierced the forest nine miles east of Uniontown on Friday afternoon, when they heard the drone of an approaching airplane.

Much to their surprise the plane flew so low that it only missed by a few feet the tree tops and the mountainous promontories.

Latchem and Haines waved to the fliers and they waved back. The motor of the plane was not functioning properly. Once, while the slow-moving plane was still within view, the engine, Latchem said, "died out" almost entirely but again "pop-popped" back into life.

Once Latchem declared he believed the fliers called down to him but the attendant noises of the engine drowned out the fliers' voices.

The heavy timber growth prevented the men to keep the plane in view.

"The plane was so close that we could easily distinguish the faces of the two pilots as they leaned over and gazed down upon us. I have never seen a plane flying so low nor so slowly.

"We believed the plane was about to land," Latchem continued, "but an examination around our location showed that no spot was available for a safe descent."

The plane circled over the men once before it set out on a northwesterly course. Circling the second time, Latchem again declared that he believed the men attempted to call down to them.

Latchem did not learn of the fatal crash of the plane until he arrived at his home here today. Then he recalled the apparent dilemna of the airplane pilot and remembered that the numeral 26-398-AC was painted on the underwings.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29. — The United Mine Workers of America will ask that families of union miners be not ejected from the homes of Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation and the Consumers Coal Company until the United Mine Workers have had sufficient time to procure living quarters for them, Philip Murray, international vice-president, announced tody.

Thus far the United Mine Workers have been unable to procure a refusal or an acqaiesence from the two companies. The superior court handed down a decision supporting the eviction of union families from houses owned by the Inland Collieries company, The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation, the Consumers company and others.

There are 1242 families involved, Murray said, totalling approximately 6,500 people. For some of these, barracks already have been constructed, while other buildings are under construction and plans have been made for the other quarters necessary.

At present the union has barracks supplying living quarters for 400 or 500 families, Murray declared. Construction has been speeded in every section during the past week.

Human Skeleton Found In Deserted "Mansion"

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—A relic of what police believe may have been a murder of bygone days was uncovered today when workmen cleaning the cellar of an old mansion on Prospect avenue, once an elite section of the city, found a human skeleton.

The skull had been split.

want to organize the senate and if that's true, I give them credit for having a little sense."

The announced plan of Democratic leaders to bar Senators-elect William S. Vare of Penna., and Frank L. Smith, of Ill., both Republicans, at the door of the senate probably will have no effect on the Republican organization plans. If Vare and Smith are denied admission it was said, a number of Democrats will vote for Republican organization under the theory that the Republicans are entitled to control the senate because of their paper majority.

"I think the Democrats ought to vote to seat Vare and Smith," said Senator Blease (D) of S. C., "I don't believe the senate ought to be organized until they are seated and if it is organized before they take their oaths of office, I think the Republicans are entitled to remain in control. I shall vote that way."

The new senate will line up with 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer Laborite. If Vare and Smith are barred, and two Democrats voted with the Republicans, the latter would retain control even without the vote of the Farmer-Laborite. If Blease alone voted Republican, the Republicans could organize with the help of Vice President Dawes, even if the Farmer-Laborite voted with the Democrats.

In the house, there will be no doubt about the Republicans organizing. The battle in the lower branch will be over committee assignments. The selection of Rep-elect Harry Estep, of Pa., for a place on the Ways and Means Committee, has provoked the biggest row. Western Republicans charged Estep was given this choice assignment, although a newcomer, because he represents Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The westerners further charged the New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois delegations with attempting to control the house. This row will be a strict party affair and will be aired at the house Republican caucus next Saturday morning.

Boy Scout News

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council that had been scheduled for this evening has been postponed until next Monday evening, Dec. 5.

Round-Up

This comes as special notice to all scoutmasters of the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scouts of America. As the time of the annual round-up approaches a request is now made to all scoutmasters that they file the names of their entries in the different events at the Scout headquarters, Greer building. This is necessary, as no Scouts are allowed to enter the contests unless they have first been registered.

PRESENT PROGRAM AT THE CASTLETON

Mrs. Lawrence Platt as hostess presented an excellent program for The Music Club members Monday evening in The Castleton ballroom. The entire audience sang "Pennsylvania" as an opening number.

The club members were well represented by vocal solos by Mrs. Paul Weller and Leonard Kisthart, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Whittaker and Miss Kathryn Newberry, and piano solos by Mrs. W. A. McNally and Miss Isabel Zehner.

The remainder of the numbers were given by guests. Miss Harriet Kearns sang in a sweet, birdlike manner, her singing contrasting pleasingly with the lovely mezzo voice of Mrs. Lillian Andrews Bornman.

W. R. Short, who recently came to this city, proved that all the "Beniamano Giglis" are not on the Metropolitan stage. A violin, 'cello and piano trio, with Mrs. John Paton, Burdette Callahan and John Paton personnel, played two very enjoyable numbers.

An added attraction to the program were several violin solos by Miss Virginia Kreuge of Chicago, Ill., accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Frederick Kreuge, a former member of the San Carlos Opera Company. Miss Kreuge, with her delightful playing and charming personality, won the audience completely.

Mrs. J. M. Pyle and Mrs. Gomer Emery were accompanists for Miss Kearns, Mrs. Bornman and Mr. Short.

The next meeting will be open to the public and will take place in the Highland U. P. church Monday, Dec. 12, with Mrs. Jay L. Reed as hostess.

L. A. B. Club

Fourteen members of the L. A. B. Club were present at the regular meeting in the home of Mrs. John Shaffer, Cunningham avenue, Monday evening. Music and games were enjoyed, and the prize was won by Mrs. James McCullough.

During the evening birthday gifts were presented Mrs. John Sweet, and Mrs. Flora Cunningham.

Later refreshments were served by the hostess.

December 7, Mrs. Wilbur Jones, Mercer street, with Mrs. Flora Cunningham will be joint hostesses at a 1 o'clock luncheon.

The regular meeting December 19, will be with Mrs. James McCullough, Warren avenue.

G. K. W. Club.

Mrs. John Atkinson, Emerson avenue, will entertain the G. K. W. club members Wednesday instead of Thursday.

LECTURES ON "RUGS" AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Charles Greer, North Jefferson street was hostess to members of The Reading Circle in her home, Monday afternoon. "Pet Extravagances" were given in answer to roll call.

F. M. Rashid of Chautauqua, N. Y. was introduced and entertained the guests in the rug room of the Greer home, where a most elaborate collection of rugs was on display.

Mr. Rashid explained in detail the manner in which the rugs were woven, and the secret manner in which they are dyed. It was interesting to note that the designs of these beautiful rugs are in the weaver's head, rather than copied from any picture, and a great length of time is required for their weaving.

Following this lecture Mrs. S. D. Pearson spoke on Armenian Relief work.

The next meeting of the circle will be in the form of a Christmas party at the home of Miss Edith Moore, Hazelcroft avenue, December 12.

Capitol Acts and Picture Again Score Success

Getting a combination of good acts and a good picture seems to have become habitual at the Capitol Theatre and really doesn't require anything in the way of notice, but the bill for this first half of the week really is good.

The vaudeville opens with a clever perch act in which the Two Jansleys defy the law of gravitation with impunity and keep a housefull of people on the edge of their seats with suspense. Pois and Billy Barnet present a dialogue act in which they do a lot of cracking smart and the closing act is the A'Maiov Revue. It's a Russian act, accompanied by a Russian stringed orchestra. The dance numbers are good and the setting of the act alone is worth seeing. A mighty good act.

The picture is "On Ze Boulevard" a comedy of the French cafes in which Lew Cody and Renee Adoree are starred. The pictures of the Army-Navy football game on last Saturday are also seen. The comedy is Pricilla Dean in "Slipping Wives".

ALTOGETHER TOO MANY STATIONS

VALIANT work has been done by the Radio Commission in trying to clear the air channels. Various changes are to go into effect on December 1. These may help, and it is to be hoped they will, for, truth to tell, there is still much confusion. However, it is probable that satisfactory reception can be obtained in only one way—the elimination of numerous broadcasting stations.

There are too many of them by half. They build up barriers in cities against the outside. A drastic weeding out is exceedingly desirable.

COMPULSORY VOTING

AUSTRALIA has a compulsory voting law.

It is a curious spectacle, this making a law to force people to use the ballot. While the people of one nation are shedding blood for the right to govern themselves by the ballot, there are other countries in which many citizens neglect to take advantage of this right of self-government and speak of the tyranny of a government which would attempt to herd them into the election booth.

Some years ago the Australians enacted a compulsory enrollment law. The statute provided a penalty of a $2.50 fine for failure to enroll as a voter. No increase in the number of enrolled voters has been accomplished by the law. Unless the Australians have undergone recent transformation the national vote will be no larger because of the compulsory voting law.

It is difficult to see how compulsory enrollment or compulsory voting can serve the interests of good government. There are more valid arguments in support of a law denying the vote to the citizen lacking the desire of self-government and an interest in governmental betterment. One wonders whether the professional politicians, the Australian breed of the modern enforcement uplifter, or the small body of rational and conscientious voters are responsible for these electoral experiments.

LOBBIES AND LOBBYISTS

THE LOBBY is a firmly established institution in this country. There is hardly a group or interest that is not represented by a lobby in Washington. Congressmen going about their business must listen to arguments for and against legislation from professional lobbyists representing business interests, power interests, financial interests, agricultural interests and even the moral interests.

Congressmen must not only listen, but often must, or think they must, obey. They have obeyed to such an extent that there is not one of the special interests mentioned which has not received some kind of special legislation which has the effect of taking money out of the pockets of the taxpayers and putting it, directly, or indirectly, into the pockets of the special interests concerned. Lobbyists draw high salaries and those salaries are not necessarily the only expense of lobbying. Somebody must pay those expenses and the taxpayer has long suspected he was the goat.

All this seems to have been looked upon by congressmen as the natural order of things. At least there was heard no outcry from congressional halls, until, strange to relate, there appeared in Washington a new lobby, not to seek new laws, but to see that John Smith, taxpayer, got a square deal. When it asked that taxes be equalized, congressmen, who had viewed with equanimity the myriad lobbies which had proposed the expenditure of vast sums of the taxpayers' money, were immediately scandalized.

The army of taxpayers have submitted so long to raids upon their pocketbooks that it is now reprehensible for them to protest. There is but one lobby that the congressman may honestly obey and that is one representing the whole people. Too many laws and taxes reflect undue influence from minority groups that are not above robbing Peter to pay Paul so long as they can be Paul.

Almost everything in the world can be used at times to benefit things except solemnity.

CHICAGO EDITOR DEFINES NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers are the most familiar objects of the present day and newspaper men the most mysterious, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor of the Chicago Tribune, told members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce recently. "Lying journalists—leaders of public opinion—subsidized press—organs of enlightenment, are some of the terms applied to journalism," he said.

"No newspaper, so far as I am aware, is as extreme as many books and numerous periodicals . . . A newspaper is an entity, not a limb of a greater organization. Its editorials are the product of organization, rather than the work of an individual. An editorial page has the benefit of a large amount of information hardly to be found elsewhere, therefore it must frequently be at variance with all parties, blocs, churches and classes, because these are from time to time or all the time at variance with each other," Col. McCormick said.

Doctor McTavish had worked hard to put his boy Sandy through medical school. When Sandy graduated and returned home the old doctor turned his practice over to the boy and took a well-earned vacation.

Upon his return he was greeted by Sandy at the station, who said:

"What?" exclaimed the old doctor. "I'll have you to know that Mrs. MacGregor's stomach put you through college!"

Too Many Women.
Money for Everybody.
Cancer and Fear.
$300,000 of Whiskers.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Turkey has 481,137 excess women, according to a census just taken. Kemal Pasha decided that one wife is enough for one Turk, so surplus women are taking up work of all kinds. That is better than a dull harem, and one Turk among many.

Fighting kills off the men—always has, which accounts for polygamy. One man could not possibly keep several women happy and contented. That accounts for veils on their faces and prison-like harems.

Kemal's interesting experiment, abolishing polygamy, will cause more rapid increase of population, for one thing, and perhaps restore the ancient glory of the Turks, a powerful race, admired for gallantry by all their enemies—except the Armenians.

Mr. Jacob Coxey, who led his famous army to Washington 34 years ago, evolves a new plan at the age of 73. He would have the government lend money to citizens at one-half of one per cent interest a year.

"Interest is the economic hookworm of the nation," says he.

The economic hookworm for the borrower probably would be the scarcity of collateral, unless Mr. Coxey's plan would not allow government to demand collateral.

The worst of cancer is fear.

Cancer is a variegated disease, including growths of various kinds.

Taken in time, a cancer is no more dangerous than a bad splinter that might cause blood poisoning if not removed.

Each cancer begins very small. If near the surface, detected and removed promptly—that's an end of it. If allowed to grow, it sends out particles of itself that grow elsewhere. A cancer in the thumb will reappear in the armpit.

When you notice any abnormal growth, however small, see a doctor that knows something—or, failing that, go to a hospital and ask for a specialist.

Don't be afraid of the word "cancer"; it is not the word that kills.

There is no cure for cancer except the surgeon's knife, and in some cases radium. Medicine is worthless, although frauds recommend it.

Cheerfulness helps, perhaps. A cheerful heart being more efficient in fighting disease. Many who fear cancer have no such thing. They should go to a hospital and make sure.

Cancer is not inherited, but tendency to cancer is inherited. It is believed that the right "crosses" in marriage would eliminate cancer, but the wrong wife or husband is worse than cancer.

Christmas spending one sign of American prosperity, amounts to fourteen hundred and twenty-two million dollars, about. Whiskers for imitation Santa Clauses alone cost $300,000.

The most welcome present is often something useless; it seems really like a present. The farmer and his sons that gave the wife and mother a new axe to chop kindling wood did not understand Christmas giving.

The Rev. John R. Hart, at the University of Pennsylvania, has established a forum of forums "to combat atheist clubs in the colleges". All discussion is useful, but atheist clubs need worry no one. They combat and destroy themselves.

Watch your atheist in the earthquake, big storm at sea or heavy thunderstorm and you see in his face the fact that man is naturally a religious animal, and "would have to invent a God if he did not have one".

Poiret, French dressmaker, complains that American women are "too conservative" in dress. He is hard to please. American women display their arms, legs, knees, armpits, ribs, back down to the waist and chest as far down in front as possible. What else would Monsieur Poiret suggest?

Before he died Bratianu, dictator in Rumania, predicted war caused by Mussolini's policies, and said Rumania would "never cede any of its new territory". Never is a long word. If Russia should develop a Muscovite Napoleon one of his first bites would probably take in the whole of Rumania.

Every nation created artificially exists in constant danger. Real nations, like languages and individuals, grow.

Another California idea. Bees waste too much time and energy flying long distances to find honey. Frank S. Clark of Los Angeles will have his colonies of hives on trailers, hauled behind motor trucks.

The bees, hives and all, will be carted about and kept always within easy reach of blossoms, orange, clover, alfalfa, depending on the season, and the bees will be kept working on an efficiency basis all the time.

In Day's News

L. R. Powell, Jr., who at the age of 43 has been chosen to succeed the late S. Davies Warfield as head of the Seaboard Airline Railway Company, becomes one of the youngest railroad presidents in America. The election of Mr. Powell adds another to the long list of railroad executives who have risen from the ranks. A Virginian by birth, he entered the employ of the Seaboard Airline immediately he had finished his schooling. From a clerkship he worked his way up to the comptroller's office. During the past few years he has been closely associated with the late President Warfield in the expansion and development of the railway system and its territory, directing the construction of new lines and leasing and purchasing other units for the Seaboard. During this period he held the positions of vice president and comptroller.

SUBSTITUTES FOR WOOD AGAIN

My recent article on "Substitutes for Wood" seems to have aroused considerable controversy.

I have had a flood of letters from people in the wood business, telling me how wrong the article was.

I did not know that I was entering the controversial field when I wrote the article, but it seems I was. Therefore, for the benefit of the reader who wishes to be unbiased I will present some of the wood propagandists' points which they make in their letters to me.

Any other substance cannot have the resiliency that wood has.

Not forty billion feet of lumber are destroyed every year to make 900,000,000 ties, and all the lumber cut for all purposes in the United States is less than four billions of feet.

Lumber used for ties is rarely good for anything else. If it were not made up into ties it would be burned for fire wood or otherwise wasted.

Substitutes for wood have been tried by railroads and discarded.

England has discarded metal ties, and recently the Los Angeles Railroad has gone back to wooden ties after long use of the other kind.

Newspapers are the great robbers of forests and not railroad tie companies. One Sunday edition of the newspaper recently consumed enough wood to cover sixty-five acres.

A good creosoted tie lasts twenty-five years and not eight.

The Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad put in wooden ties in 1911. They are good yet and they expect them to last thirty years longer.

A railroad owned by a steel company recently went back to wooden ties.

Wooden ties are cheaper than metal ties, and they keep fastenings tighter. Steel ties interfere with insulation and in case of derailing, steel ties are of no further use.

The forests are not being depopulated by the inroads for ties, but they will probably last indefinitely.

These items are culled from letters sent to me and I am not responsible for their accuracy, but at least you have both sides of the question.

Tomorrow—The Well-Balanced Mother.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

STOP, DON'T "ZIG-ZAG."

To become a locomotive engineer, it is necessary for a man to spend years of study and practice in railroading. He must know everything about the machine which he is to operate, must be fully acquainted with all the rules of railroad traffic and must be a cool, level-headed driver.

How different are the requirements of the operator of an automobile. It does not take very much knowledge to obtain a driver's license; in some states it takes no knowledge whatever,—anybody buying an automobile has a driver's license thrown in with the State Motor Vehicles' license. As long as he owns the thing, the State lets him drive it.

Naturally, there are some queer drivers. The other day a traffic policeman in a city not far distant from New Castle saw a woman driver who appeared rather confused in the traffic. He held up his hand to stop her, but she paid no attention. The policeman bore down on her and said, "Didn't you see me hold up my hand?"

The culprit gasped a breathless—"Yes." "Didn't you know that when I held up my hand, it meant—stop?" demanded the cop.

"No, I am just a school teacher," she gasped, "and when you raised your hand, I thought you wanted to ask a question."

Down South a negro taxi driver, charged with running down a man, causing miner injuries, was being lectured by the Judge. The Judge told the driver that when in danger of hitting some person he should "zig-zag" his car.

"I done ziz-zag, yo'r Honor," was his reply, but dat man, he done zig-zagg too an' he 'zagged so much faster dan I 'zagged dat it jus' nacherly giv me swimmin' in de head an' dat's how come I hit him."

Don't "zig-zag."—Stop; that is the best advice to any driver.

THE TOASTMASTER

He hunts up jests and drags them in
To make the weary diners grin.
He thinks up clever things to say
To keep the banquet spirits gay.
He makes the names of doctors known
Who're wanted on the telephone.
He's first to rise, the last to quit.
And doesn't like his job a bit.

I've sat and watched him many a night
Struggling to make a dull line bright;
Fishing for adjectives to praise
Some tedious talker's tedious ways;
Palavering with flattery o'er
A man he'd never met before;
Envying the boys who slip away.
But at his job compelled to stay.

Poor man in evening dress, I say
Much happier in life are they
Who never rise above the throng
But with the many drift along.
Since from the dullard's silent lip
Falls never merry thought or quip
As suits his whim he comes and goes
Missing the gay toastmaster's woes.

He eats his food and runs away
With other care-free men to play.
But you must stick the program out
And learn what it is all about.
The boys admire your line of jape.
You've won a job you can't escape.
This is the bitter price you pay
For thinking thoughts which you can say.

Bible Thought For Today

THE CRY OF THE WOUNDED HEART:—But do thou, for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's sake. Because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me. For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me. Psalm 109:21, 22.

PRAYER: O Lord, my God, I cried unto Three, and Thou hast healed me.

C. B. D. CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

VOICES

During the last 30 years some millions of young people have spoiled their speaking voices by yelling like maniacs at high school and college games. A strange madness came over the colleges two or three decades ago, manifesting itself in the most insane screeching and hollering. High school pupils soon became infected, and proceeded to imitate the colleges with a vigor more rabid than commendable.

I have heard thousands of healthy young persons doing violence to their vocal cords in unison, without any greater provocation than a third-rate football contest and the gyrations of a yell leader. I have known several attractive and intelligent college girls who have emerged from their halls of study with permanently hoarse or coarse voices. Excessive screaming has given them the voices of fishmongers. They are credited in later life with "whiskey voice," when in reality they have sacrificed very attractive voices to the silly custom of bowling like lunatics over unimportant athletic contests that they will forget all about as soon as they have left the campus.

* * *

The plainest girl and the homeliest man may make themselves as agreeable and as popular as the bathing beauty queen at a Kiwanis picnic, if they have pleasant and well-modulated voices. It is not always needful to have something profound or important to say. Say it in a soothing voice, and it wins the golden apple, even though it's only a Mother Goose rhyme.

The feature of the American stage that bores me most is the artificial voice and vocal mannerisms of the average actor and actress. The women of the stage are worse in this respect than the men, but only a little worse.

Walter Hampden is, in my opinion, the greatest American actor now living. He has no artificial mannerisms, and his voice and enunciation are clear and melodious. Ethel Barrymore, on the other hand, always drives me out of the theatre before the show is over, because of her strained and artificial voice and her pretentious manner of speech.

I meet many girls, in the course of a year, who have spoiled naturally winning personalities by trying to imitate Ethel Barrymore. The resulting voice, intonation and method of speech are a crime against good taste.

If I were a girl I would guard my voice and enunciation more than my complexion. You can always buy a new complexion at the store, but only God can give you a voice, and when you spoil the one He gave you, you are notoriously out of luck.

Nurse Asks Divorce After Husband Is Released From Year's Sentence For Dry Violation

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—A few months after their marriage when they had moved into a farm house near New Castle, her husband brought home a still, Mrs. Gisela Melzer, a nurse of Progress street, related in the hearing of her divorce suit against John Melzer, before Judge Thomas J. Ford, in common pleas court yesterday. She objected, she said, but Melzer replied that a woman should have nothing to say. He was arrested shortly afterward in August, 1924, the libellant said, and was sent to the Allegheny county workhouse for one year.

After his release from the workhouse, Mrs. Melzer said she gave him $30 to hunt work. He returned later, she said, and told her he had sold the furniture at New Castle and was going to Homestead to board, adding that he did not need a woman.

Councilmen Soon To Meet Problem Of 1928 Finances

Councilman Burns Sees Need For Economy Next Year

SOME OF CITY NEEDS DISCUSSED

Councilman William T. Burns, the man who adds and substracts, then tells his colleagues in city council "how much they can and cannot spend" sees need for economy in city expenditures next year.

"Our valuation will not be any larger than last year," he says.

"In order to make big improvements it may be necessary for the people to authorize a bond issue, at the polls."

At least, this is the gist of what Burns said today.

He, with Councilman Davies, were telling what they would like to do for the city in 1927.

According to Burns the approximate total bond indebtedness, City of New Castle, is about $960,000.

He says the city might go "$100,000, farther."

Burns believes that to be able to do something worth while on major problems, such as the sewers, several hundred thousand dollars would be required.

"The only hope I see through the cloud is authority from the people to float a bond issue of say, $350,000, $450,000" he said today.

Burns said that one of the major problems confronting the city is the sewer system and according to the report of Fuller and McClintock who made a survey, their estimate cost of readjustment would run in the vicinity of $800,000—impossible to do all at once, all city officials confess.

And then there is Councilman Davies. His heart and soul is bound in the fire department and he believes the city should soon get some new fire apparatus.

Davies says the Knox pump is about worn out.

He believes the city should purchase a fire service truck, a sort of a pump and hook and ladder affair that could be used in any part of the city, especially the hill districts.

There are lots of problems affecting the city, improvements they would like to make but their desires will not formally be known until they, with Mayor-elect Gillespie and Councilman-elect Reeves sit down in the budget meeting and discuss plans.

WALL PAPER PANELING

Very often it is desirable to break up the side walls of a room with panels of paper. Sometimes architects make this necessary by putting in woodwork that leaves only certain spaces available for paper. For such purposes we have wall papers in tapestry effects that are most appropriate. Come and see what we have to show you.

Chicago Alienist May Be Allowed To Examine Mrs. Snyder For Insanity

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, state commissioner of corrections was expected to issue an order today, which would permit Dr. Clarence J. Neyman noted Chicago alienist, to examine Mrs. Ruth Snyder as to her sanity.

Former Judge Edgar S. Hazelton of counsel for Mrs. Snyder, was to go to the capitol today to ask Governor Smith to permit Dr. Neyman to enter Sing Sing and examine Mrs. Snyder. The governor indicated he would send Hazelton to Dr. Kieb.

In the meantime, the governor was scheduled to confer with Dr. Kieb at the capitol. Dr. Kieb said his decision as to whether he would permit Dr. Neyman to examine Mrs. Snyder, would depend upon his conference with the governor.

It was learned the governor was disposed to permit Dr. Neyman to make the examination of Mrs. Snyder.

WETS AND DRYS TO RAISE FUNDS

Forecasters See Big National Battle On Prohibition About 1932

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29. — The "wets" have launched a campaign for $3,000,000 with which to promote a national referendum on prohibition within the next few years.

The "drys" are to meet in the capital next week to launch a campaign for $5,000,000 with which to combat the efforts of the wets and keep the 18th amendment nailed in the constitution.

Members of congress, returning to Washington for the session beginning Monday, viewed these twin developments today with apprehensive shaking of hands. Many of them believe that the real battle over prohibition is just starting, despite the turmoil and struggle of the last seven years, and that the crux of the fight will be reached in 1932.

Blind Charlie Thomas Makes Holiday Appeal

Once again the Christmas season is nearly on us, and the stores and shops offer an assortment of presents which delight the eye. But for one citizen there is no delight, for the past 30 years have been years of darkness for him.

Daily, Charles W. Thomas, for it is he, sits on his chair on East Washington street, taking gratefully the coins that sympathetic friends drop in his cup. For him the season offers but little except the possibility of some material comforts which friends may provide.

It is his only means of support and without this meagre support his Christmas will be slim indeed. Every coin dropped into his cup means a little more in the way of Christmas celebration for him, and it is to be hoped that the response this year will be generous.

Recently a friend painted a new sign for him which he has with him. The sign reads as follows:

God loveth a cheerful giver,
Though the gift be poor and small,
What doth he think of his children,
When they never give at all?

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Albert C. Ritchie made a mistake in 1926, when he preferred a third term as governor of Maryland to a United States senate seat.

He could have had the senate seat just as well.

Senator O. E. Weller, who was running for re-election, is a Republican. Ritchie, as a Democrat, had every right to beat him if he could.

And he could. The nomination was his, for saying so. Representative Millard E. Tydings, who took it because Ritchie didn't want it, won in a walk. Ritchie could have won in a slower walk.

* * *

Another term as governor was Ritchie's own selection.

It's easy to see why. He had presidential aspirations. Politicians consider a governorship a better taking off place for the presidency than they do a senatorship. The theory is that a senator is more or less lost among 95 others, while a governor stands out by himself.

Besides, no Maryland governor ever served three terms before, which was an additional distinction in Ritchie's case.

This may be sound reasoning if the governorship is the governship of a big, pivotal state.

The governor of New York becomes, automatically, a national character as soon as he's elected. So do the governors of states like Ohio and Illinois, in lesser degree.

That the governorship of one of the smaller states has any such political value isn't so plain, unless the incumbent can manage to attract attention to himself in some other way, as by means of a police strike or a well managed flood or a graft exposure or something of that sort.

* * *

Nationally, Maryland is a good deal of a political backwater. Ritchie is rather extra prominent, but ordinarily it's a question if the average American, except in the immediate neighborhood, can tell, off hand, who the governor of Maryland is.

To a mid-westerner, the New York governorship probably means more than a senatorship, but a senatorship means a lot more to him than the governorship of Maryland.

Ritchie, a dyed-in-the-wool Marylander and doubtless accustomed, like most of us, to think of his own habitat as the most important spot on earth, seems to have overestimated the political publicity value of that Annapolis governorship of his.

* * *

He evidently realized the necessity of advertising himself, for he's made quite an extensive speaking tour before public gatherings of one kind or another, but it wasn't mass production of popularity.

As it was, he'd have been more effective, from the standpoint of his own good, as Senator than as Gov. Ritchie.

In fact, he's so much classier than the typical politician that he's been a better advertisement for his governorship, perhaps, than the governorship has been for him.

His declaration in Washington recently that Al Smith, as the situation has shaped itself, is entitled to first consideration as the Democrats' bid for the presidency, is of a piece with the good sportsmanship the Maryland executive has shown all through.

It doesn't look much as if Ritchie will get the nomination now.

A year or so ago he appeared to have a pretty fair look-in, but he missed his chance to get as well acquainted with the voters as he should.

King's Henchman Here December 14

Sensationally American Opera In Cathedral For One Performance Only

"The King's Henchman," the sensationally American opera which had its world premiere at the Metropolitan early this year, will only play one performance here, although efforts were made by the management to arrange for a longer stay of the noted company.

The first American grand opera to score internationally, written by Deems Taylor and Edna St. Vincent Millay, both American, "The King's Henchman" had to be repeated seven times in its brief season in New York. It now comes here in response to a real and insistent demand to hear the phenomenal success.

A triple cast of singers is carried for the principal roles, including Marie Sundelius, Arthur Hackett, Rafaelo Diaz, Richard Hale, Giovanni Martino, Thomas George, Henri Scott, Frances Peralta, John Roberts, Ora Hyde, Constance Hejda, Dudley Marwick, Alfredo Valenti and Burton Leslie.

The coming of "The King's Henchman" to the Scottish Rite auditorium on December 14 is one of the noteworthy events of the city's musical history. There have been before now American operas of the type called "grand". But apparently they did not get by well enough in New York to warrant inclusion in a repertory given on tour. This is a chance to ascertain if local music followers believe that it is possible for an American to write a big and telling opera. The Metropolitan Opera company thought so and so does its audiences for outside of New York they presented The Henchman in their repertory in Philadelphia and to the same great success.

Cities to have the opera before it arrives here are Washington, Baltimore, Boston, Toronto, Cleveland and Detroit. The tour is scheduled for a visit to the most important cities of the east and a Pacific coast trip is being planned to begin early next fall.

To interpret the difficult score a symphony orchestra of 50 pieces is used and there is a chorus of like number. The performances are given under the artistic and personal direction of Jacques Samossoud.

Garbage, the disposal of which has long been a problem to municipal authorities, may soon be made to yield guncotton, artificial silk, tar, charcoal and acetic acid, by means of a process invented by a Berlin engineer.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A PLATE GLASS WINDOW

Mr. Rattler argued well, but there was something sly in the hang of his head, something hard in the glitter of his eye. Peter, then and there, made up his mind it would never do to trust a serpent's sense of humor.

"Nothing could make me think of you as a kind hearted creature, Rattler," said Peter frankly. "If it were only to protect yourself that you struck, why, that would be one thing, but out you dart your fangs before a fellow knows you are around. Don't you suppose that any sensible two-legs would run if you gave him warning?"

What a quick tempered creature Rattler was! At a word his tail would stiffen with anger. It did so now.

"I always give warning!" hissed he. "Always! If a two-legs or anyone else, for that matter—is not clever enough to heed it, and quick enough to get out of my way, that is not my fault." And the rattlesnake gave a sly, sneaky, snaky smile that Peter found worse than the serpent's anger. The boy would have liked to look the other way, but for some reason he could not—try as he would, his gaze always came back to that glittering eye fixed upon him. At last he could stand it no longer.

"If it's just the same to you, Mr. Rattler, will you look the other way? Or, if you must stare at me longer, wink your eyes once in a while, will you?"

"No!" hissed the rattler, flatly. "I will not! If there is anything about my eyes that you don't like, look at something else yourself."

"But I can't," protested the boy. "I have tried, but your eye is a magnet. It draws my gaze to yours every time. If you will not stop staring at me, why won't you blink?"

"Because I can't!" hissed the rattler. "What would I blink with? I have no eyelids, as you would see for yourself if you were at all observing."

"Good gracious, you haven't!" exclaimed Peter. "Why not?" Peter, protected by the lizard's tail, felt safe to ask questions.

"I don't need them!" hissed rattler sharply. "As a matter of fact, they would be very much in the way when shedding time comes. Goodness knows how I should get my skin over them. It is bad enough as it is."

"WHAT WOULD I BLINK WITH?" HISSED DAINTY.

"But I should think you, of all creatures, would need protection for your eyes. Gliding over the ground as you do, I can't understand why the stones and dirt and the sharp sticks don't put them out," declared Peter.

"So they might, if my eyes were just like those of common creatures," hissed serpent, scornfully. "Look closer! Can't you see my eyeplate, clear as crystal, behind which my eye is sheltered, but through which I see the world?"

Peter looked, and gave a cry of surprise.

"A regular plate glass window!"

Three Negroes Held In Death Of Young Man

Two Women And Man Held In Jail As Result Of Fatal Shooting In West Virginia

(International News Service)

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Two women and a man, negroes, were prisoners in the Letcher county jail at Whitesburg, Ky., today, accused of slaying Herschel Deaton, 26, mine foreman, and son of J. A. Deaton, prominent coal operator here. The prisoners, Leonard Wood, Bunham, Ky.; Mrs. Joe Knapp and another woman, whose name was not learned, were arrested late yesterday at Jenkins, Ky.

To prevent violence at the hands of a large crowd which gathered, the three prisoners, after being held four hours, were transferred from the jail at Jenkins to that at Whitesburg.

In China the death of a public official is made known by the announcement "He is drawing no salary."

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One-eyed autos are numerous on the streets of the city. Likewise, many cars are being operated without tail lights burning. This is especially true of small trucks, it was noted when observations were made about the city last night.

Plans are already being made in most of the churches of New Castle for the observance of Christmas. In many cantatas and Sunday school programs will be presented with the usual white gifts service.

New Castle's phenomenal weather continues. Last night it was so warm that doors were open in a number of places where public assemblages were noted.

Announcement that Christmas savings funds in New Castle banks total $361,000 this year, or $10,000 more than the amount saved in this manner a year ago, is rather a surprise. This large sum, when released for circulation early in December, will mean much in the way of stimulating the holiday spirit in this city.

Plans are being made in a number of sections of the city for erection of community trees. Last year there were eight or ten of these, in different parts of New Castle, and indications are that the number will be increased during the coming holiday season.

The church bazaar season is with us once again.

From the number of broken branches of trees found on the streets of the city this morning, there must have been a high wind storm sometime during the night.

Medical Society To Meet Thursday

"Pernicious anaemia" is the subject to be brought before the Lawrence County Medical Society at their regular scientific meeting to be held in the social room of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday, Dec. 1.

Dr. W. A. Womer will treat the pathology of the disease, while Dr. E. Kaplan will speak on the symptoms and treatment of the disease.

Drs. Cooper, Shoaff and Womer have been present at every meeting of the society this year.

Many of the members of the society attended the Mercer county annual banquet. Those in attendance from here were: Cooper, Cleland, Eagleson, Foster, McDowell, Perry, Popp, Reed, Sankey, Wilson and Womer.

Believe Chicago Gangster Warfare Is Finally Ended

Another Unknown Man Is "Taken For Ride," Later Found Murdered

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Explosion of three bombs within 12 hours, the assassination of a man who apparently had been "taken for a ride" and the evacuation from the battle scene of "Scarface Al" Capone and his chief lieutenants today believed reports that Chicago's vicious gang war had ended in a truce.

The identity of the victim of the "death ride" is unknown.

The body was found by the roadside near Bensenville early today. A single bullet had pierced his forehead.

He was well dressed and considerable money was found on his person.

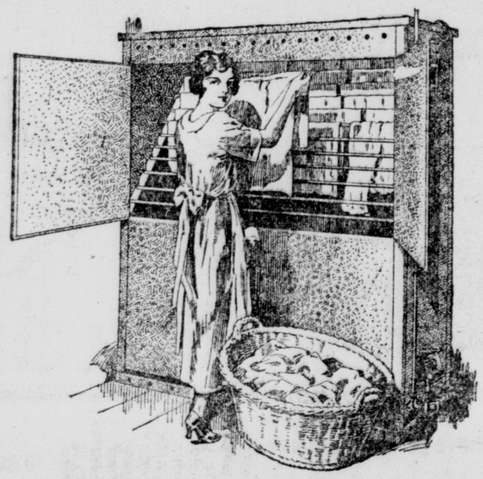
TETLEY TEA

Unsurpassed quality, flavor and strength



Your Entire Washing Dried Right Where You Wash!

IN COLD rainy weather—and the disagreeable days of winter—think of the comfort and the convenience of being able to dry your entire washing right where you wash. Think of being able to wash, dry and iron—all in one day—and in the same room—with the rest of the week free for other household and social duties.

Clothes Cannot Scorch

Scorching temperature is never reached in the quick-drying Lamneck. A thermostat set to operate at 60° below scorching temperature shuts off the heat automatically before the clothes are in danger.

The Lamneck Laundry Dryer

Shortens washdays by half—regardless of weather conditions—because the quick drying action of the Lamneck easily keeps pace with the washer. And the removable, stainless metal rods afford drying space equal to 60 feet of line—more than enough for a big tubful of clothes. This quick drying by indirect heat and constantly fresh air bleaches the clothes so they come from the dryer white, sweet and clean smelling.

Installed for only $5.00 Down

For a small down payment of only $5.00 you can have a safe, dependable Lamneck Dryer installed, which will dry your clothes in record time—on any washday. Let us tell you more about this efficient, economical appliance. Stop in at our store, or phone and we'll send a representative.

Four Are Injured In Triple Crash

BRIDGEWATER, Pa., Nov. 29.—Four persons, including a woman and three girls, were injured when three automobiles crashed on Riverside Drive and piled up at the intersection of Sharon road.

Mrs. James Mays, 27, East Palestine, O., is in the Beaver Valley General hospital, New Brighton, with a crushed arm and bruises about the body. Florence Elizabeth Mulvey, 13, Ben Avon, was treated at the Rochester hospital for cuts about the lips and face. Two young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Samball, Woodlawn, were slightly injured.

The cars in the mixup were driven by James Mays, East Palestine; B. C. Carpenter, Rochester, and D. C. Mulvey, Ben Avon. County Detective Dan M. Baker arrested Mays on a charge of reckless driving and reported that during the excitement Mays slipped out of the officer's car, fled into the woods and disappeared.

LOOSE TALK

A great deal of harm is done by that loose talk which claims everything in sight. We read that a French statesman quotes Nietzeche as having written this: "All that is noble in European sentiment, taste, and manners has been invented in France." Of course that is not true and no longer is it even a popular misconception. So many ideas are accepted which have no basis in fact.

The Puritans are held up to high school and even college students as great lovers of democracy. They are supposed to have hated kings and social classes. They didn't at all. They were aristocrats in temperament and in their ideas of government. They would let only property holders vote. On the whole they appear to have been pretty snobbish. They thought a poor man ought to know his place. They were strong for humility—for the other fellow.

* * *

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING?

There persists the widespread belief that you can get something for nothing. Many people want to learn to talk more smoothly and effectively. They complain, sometimes bitterly, because of their inability to express themselves adequately. We all suffer from common laziness. If we want to learn to talk we must learn language. To learn language we must study it. Words are to be adopted, made our own, one by one.

A great public speaker, talking to a young man, said: "Take a new word for your exercise every night. For fifteen minutes walk up and down the floor or somewhere else and learn that word. Use it in sentence. Make that word your own. Some day, when you want it, you will not have to think and beckon and wait for it. It will come quickly to your tongue and say 'here am I'."

* * *

TRY THE DICTIONARY

Speaking of words, Franklin was not too busy with all his affairs to study the dictionary. He learned words by hard, plugging study.

* * *

THINK ABOUT SPEAKING

We speak without thinking but we do not think much about speaking. You admire the man who speaks with perfect diction. The right word is always in the right place. It fits smoothly and easily into position. One finds the art developed almost to the point of perfection in Newton D. Baker, in Nicholas Murray Butler. It was highly developed in the late Woodrow Wilson. To learn to do that sort of thing means years of practice in thinking very carefully about the manner in which you want to say something. By and by, after years, the manner, the style, the technique comes naturally and without effort.

The process is first to get the technique—and then forget it.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken, Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Not Like Medicine

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine. Perfected by the famous Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle.

Bad Cold Left Her During Sermon!

To awake with a cold and be rid of it by noon—would you like to know how to do it? You don't have to dose yourself with strong drugs. Just take a plain white, pleasant-tasting tablet. Pape's Cold Compound is such a simple thing to use, it doesn't seem possible that it can knock a cold out completely in a few hour. But it does! And there isn't a single after-effect on heart, head, or stomach. It is sold by every druggist for only 35c.

New Ford Car On Display Here During Week

Car To Be Shown For First Time At Local Agencies Friday

Four-wheel brakes, standard selective gear transmission, extraordinary acceleration, a speed of 60 miles an hour and more, a practically vibrationless engine, and unusual beauty in line and color are among the outstanding features of the new Ford cars, the first of which will be shown in many parts of the country next Friday. The generator, oiling system, steering gear and rear axle are of new Ford design it is announced. And its 40-horse-power engine has been so designed that it runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

This car, which is to succeed the famous Model T. line will be shown on Friday by Ford Dealers in many of the larger cities in the country including New Castle where authorized Ford Dealers will have displays.

So far the new cars have been examined only by those who will have charge of the first showings and demonstrations. Salesmen and demonstrators are studying charts and diagrams which will be used in explaining the various details of design appearance and performance.

For months factory models of the new car have been undergoing severe tests in and around Detroit. One of these factory models recently made a road run of 120 miles in 124 minutes. This run, it is said was made on an ordinary paved highway near Detroit.

Local dealers in commenting on the forthcoming show said their first view of the new Ford had substantiated Henry Ford's statement that "there is nothing quite like it in quality and price."

"Mr. Ford's statement had prepared us for a surprise" said a local dealer, "but the new Ford car is better even than we had hoped for. It is certain to make history in the automotive industry, just as its predecessor, the famous Model T. has made history for 20 years. We are proud of the new car and feel certain that its appearance and performance will attract unprecedented attention among automobile owners."

Fear Children Have Rabies

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 29.—Three children of Herbert B. Rieger, near Prospect, are being treated for a preventive of rabies. About one week ago the children were bitten successively by a dog which had been secured some time before. The animal died and the head was sent to the University of Pennsylvania for examination.

Experts diagnosed the case as rabies and the Pasteur treatment is being given the children.

Few Forest Fires Reported To Date

Officials Can Return Large Balance Of Fund To Treasury Is Belief

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—With the small game season almost ended officials of the Department of Forests and Waters today viewed the approach of the deer season feeling that the present Fall will be a record breaker for the small number of forest fires reported, and a resultant low extinction cost.

The majority of all Fall forest fires usually occur in November when the largest number of hunters are in the woods and fields. Although the majority of the 156 fires reported since June 1 have occurred in the past three months, practically all were extinguished before a large area had been burned.

Although all the bills for fighting the fires reported are not yet in the department, George H. Wirt, chief of the bureau of forest fire protection said that the total cost for the Fall season so far would not exceed $3,000.

The last legislature appropriated $200,000 for fighting forest fires during the present biennium. Unless an unusually large number are started during the spring of 1928 Wirst believes that a large balance of the fund can be returned to the State treasury. Last year $95,000 of a $100,000 appropriation for that purpose was returned.

Despite the large number of hunters in the woods during the deer season it is looked upon by officials of the department with less worry than the seasons for other game.

A large majority of the hunters are in the higher altitudes of the northern counties where snow is plentiful after December 1.

After the first heavy snow of the winter forest fire fighters feel there is little to worry about until the approach of the following Spring hazards.

Old Bailey Sees Criminals' Ghosts

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Old Bailey" the Central Criminal Court of England, is visited by "ghosts" according to many people who claim to have witnessed the apparitions.

The "ghosts" are chiefly of notorious criminals especially murderers.

One man who is a familiar figure at sensational trials declares that whenever he goes into the judge's court he sees glaring at him the hypnotic eyes of a man named Smith who was nicknamed "Brides in the Bath Smith" who was executed for murdering young women by drowning them in a bath, soon after marrying them.

Another man asserted that he saw Michael Collins an army reservist, make the sign of the Cross as he did in the dock 15 years ago when he was sentenced to death for the murder of a young widow, in the East End of London.

Debt Payment December 15 To Swell Revenue

Wartime Debts Due United States Next Month Will Add $96,574,000

FOUR NATIONS TO ESCAPE PAYMENTS

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Swelling Uncle Sam's annual reveue, foreign nations on December 15, will pay into the treasury approximately $96,574,000 bringing the total on the account of war time debts for the year to $163,586,000.

The year will end with foreign governments owing the United States about $11,700,000,000, the bulk of which has been funded. Some $287,000,000 of this, however, has been written off as "bad debts", including more than $270,000,000 owed by the Russian government which has been repudiated by the Soviets, and $16,000,000 loaned to Armenia, a government which has ceased to exist.

With the exception of France, Italy, Roumania, and Yugoslavia all debtor nations will make payments next month, it was said at the treasury today. France whose debt pact is not yet ratified, is paying $20,000,000 annual interest on a $400,000,000 debt, remitting in June or August, while the other countries make their remittances in June. Interest payments in December amount to $70,013,000 while foreign countries are reducing the principal of their borrowings by over €26,500,000.

Pine Plantations Protect Chickens

Forester Finds Pines Give Excellent Protection To Poultry Pens Against Hawks

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—District Forester E. F. Brouse of Norristown today reported to the State Department of Forests and Waters that poultry raisers in his district have found that small pine plantations near chicken pens furnishes excellent cover against the depredations of hawks.

The pines, Brouse said, give excellent cover to chickens when hawks appear and that the birds of prey are not able to strike their intended victims because of the denseness of the growth.

Bobbed Hair Is Going Out Of Style, Say Barbers

PARIS, Nov. 29.—After a great deal of discussion and just as much hand action, the hundreds of tonsorial artists who have been holding their Third Salon de la Coiffure in Paris, have come to the conclusion that the deathknell of bobbed hair has rung.

All agree that it will be several years before really long locks come back, but the movement is already well started and the shoulder-length hair marks this period of transition.

"You can't stop the fashion cycle," said one of the prominent coiffeurs attending the congress. "It moves around just like the sun and carries the women with it.

PRINCIPALS IN FLOGGING CASE

Mrs. Fannie Clements Daniel, above, of Luverne, Ala., whose story of Klan floggings led to an investigation by Attorney-General Charles C. McCall, left, which resulted in the indictment of the Rev. L. A. Nalls, of Georgian, Ala., and 37 others, charges the hooded Klansmen came to her home, accused her of adultery, and flayed her with an inch strap. Calvin Poole, circuit solicitor for the flogging trials, is at the right.

Bank Officials Surrender Selves Will Await Probe

New Cumberland, West Virginia, Bank Officials Surrender Voluntarily

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—James E. Brandon, Jr., head bookkeeper and John A. Brandon, president of the National Bank at New Cumberland, W. Va., have voluntarily placed themselves in the jurisdiction of the federal court at Wheeling, W. Va., pending an investigation of the closing of the bank last week, according to a telegram received today by Comptroller J. W. McIntosh.

The message, from national banking officials at New Cumberland, stated the two men voluntarily surrendered to a United States commissioner at Wheeling and have been released on their own recognizance until Dec. 9, when they were directed to appear for further examination. No charge has been filed against either official, and their action, the message stated, is not indication of their guilt or innocence of any irregularity.

Census Error In Venango County Is Brought To Light

Venango County Credited With 1,000 Illiterates, Polk Inmates

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 29.—Since the last federal census in 1920 Venango county has been charged with having approximately 1,000 more illiterates than were actual residents of the county, it was revealed here today. It all happened when the census enumerator for the borough of Polk registered all the feebleminded inmates at the famous Polk institute as Venango county citizens.

Rudolph P. Bankson of Oil City, who recently opened a free school for illiterates, conducted a survey and discovered the error. The 1920 census listed 1,669 illiterates in this county, of which 1,075 inmates at Polk were included.

Use Pig In Place Of Hunting Dog

READING, Pa., Nov. 29. — Abe Stuckert, a Pike township farmer, has a pig, "Sussie," which accompanies Stuckert and his hired man Charles Hendel on hunting trips. "Sussie" runs and jumps like a hunting dog and although nine months old is putting on so little weight that she may not see a butcher's knife for several years to come. She chases rabbits, when out in the fields with Stuckert and Hendel, just like a dog, but starts to eat the game unless it is taken from her.

Woman Bootlegger Placed In Jail

NEW KENSINGTON, Nov. 29. — Mrs. Emmett Chilson, Kinloch, was jailed in Parnassus, near here, for alleged transportation of beer and whisky in an automobile in Kinloch.

Thomas White, coal and iron policeman, apprehended the woman as she tried to remove a quantity of moonshine, concealed in a package from her machine. Constable J. H. McIntyre, Parnassus, made the arrest. She was jailed in default of $1,000 bail to await hearing before Squire Jenkin Howells, Parnassus.

Boys Try To Sell War Shell Relic

SEBRING, Nov. 29.—Harold Fullerton was given a $100 fine and a 30 days jail suspension while his companion Edward Baker was given a susepended fine of $50 for the theft of a large German shell a war relic owned by C. L. Sebring which was stolen from the Leonard hardware store where it had been placed on display. According to police the case was of brass and weighs 130 pounds. The boys attempted to sell it to a junk dealer who notified police.

Some May Die But None Will Retire

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 29.—California's state employes are going to demand that they have the right to stay in harness. They will refuse to accept a proposed pension on the grounds of old age, recognizing only physical inability as grounds for retirement.

Captained by Jack Stafford, who has been in the state's employ for 34 years, 8,000 civil service workers throughout the state are mustering their forces to combat a newly-proposed plan to pension state employes after compulsory retirement at a fixed age.

Baum Speaks To Lions At Meeting At Noon Luncheon

J. H. Baum, a local heating engineer, gave a very interesting address on "Warm Air" before the members of the Lions club at their regular weekly noon-day meeting at the Elks club. He described the proper way of heating and ventilating a house and gave the modern and scientific methods employed. His address was much enjoyed.

It was primary election day at the Lions and the ballots were cast for nominations.

The election will be held in two weeks.

Murderers' Appeal Doubles Sentences

MANILA, Nov. 29.—Seven men of Pangasian province were sentenced to [illegible] for murder by the local [illegible] decided to appeal and the supreme court [illegible] last must [illegible] years.

The high court overwhelmed by the large number of baseless appeals as been forced to adopt a policy of strict interpretation of the criminal law and in a number of recent cases has increased the sentence of convicted persons from two to three times their original prison allotment.

Supervisors To Meet December 9

Lawrence County Road Supervisors To Have Convention At Court House

Supervisors of Lawrence county will gather in a court house on Friday morning, December 9, when the annual discussion of road problems will be held. Representatives of the state highway department will be present to take part in the discussion, and in addition, several Lawrence county officials are expected to be present.

The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock, according to a notice sent out by Col. James L. Stuart, secretary of highways.

Cop In Car No Excuse For Speed

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—A person whose automobile is commandeered by a police officer to pursue a criminal is not thereby relieved of the obligation of observing the speed laws, Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, ruled. He revoked the registration of Nathan Margolis, whose car, while being used to chase a suspect in Boston, Nov. 13, struck and killed Timothy J. Scannell. Margolis was at the wheel at the time.

The registrar said he was "very sorry" to take this action.

"No doubt," he added, "Margolis thought he was under obligations to obey the police officer. The power given a police officer to demand aid from a citizen does not carry with it the power to compel a person to violate any law."

Fear Of Draft Law Makes Census Taking Hard Job In Iraq

(International News Service)

BAGDAD, Nov. 29.—Fear of the passage of the proposed conscription law is interfering with the census which the government of Iraq is trying unsuccessfully to take. Men under 30 who would be [illegible] if the compulsory military service act were passed have to keep in virtual hiding, defying the census takers to try and find them. Anxious parents are concealing their sons from the eyes of the law.

The proposed military service law has nearly ruptured relations between the British mandatory authorities and the Iraq government. Although it has been repeatedly declared in England that the proposed measure did not concern the British, it is well known that the mandatory power would like to see it established. King Feisal and the other native rulers are divided over the question.

James K. Pollock And Wife Attend Notable Session Of House Of Parliament

Prof. James K. Pollock, member of the faculty of the University of Michigan, with his wife, had the honor of being present at the House of Parliament, London, England, on the recent occasion, when Lord Cecil resigned as representative of England to the League of Nations after the failure of the Naval Limitation Conference at Geneva and explained to the House of Lords his action in the matter.

To Prof. Pollock and his wife, it was a most remarkable occasion and one they fully appreciated in being permitted to witness. It has more or less bearing on the purpose of Prof. Pollock in being in Europe for a year for the purpose of studying political conditions in countries there. Prof. and Mrs. Pollock are at present in London.

Prof. Pollock in his communication to local people, gives a most interesting view of the meeting he and Mrs. Pollock witnessed and concerning the statements of Viscount Cecil and others on this occasion, which is fraught with much importance to the United States and England.

The following tells what occurred at that meeting:

Viscount Cecil, who resigned after the failure of the Naval Limitation Conference at Geneva explained his action in a statement in the House of Lords.

Dealing with the League of Nations Commission on Disarmament, he said that at Geneva he was repeatedly placed in the position of having to defend propositions which seemed to him indefensible. In response to urgent telegrams he had been allowed to make concessions, but the impression was produced that the British Government was lukewarm in its desire that the Commission should reach a successful result.

The representatives of the Admiralty scarcely concealed their indifference, if not their hostility, to the whole proceedings.

He did not say that was the attitude of the Cabinet as a whole, but he was unable to convince them of the importance of taking a stronger line with their technical advisers and of showing in matters of that kind that they were not going to allow minor technical difficulties to imperil the success of the Commission. In the result, instead of reaching an agreed draft, there were many important points on which they could do no better than to record their differences.

All those matters would come up again at the first coming meeting of the Commission when the country would be represented by Lord Cushendun. He hoped that the Cabinet, having seen the result of too great a deference to expert advice, would give Lord Cushendun greater support than they felt able to give him (Lord Cecil).

British and U. S. Navy

Lord Cecil said he returned from Geneva exhausted and discouraged. He felt that there was a fundamental difference between his views and those of the Cabinet as a whole as to the importance of the effort to reach an international agreement on the reduction and the limitation of armaments. They were not opposed to it, but they did not think it mattered very much.

Lord Cecil referred to Mr. Winston Churchill's statement since the breakdown of the 3-Power conference (Britain, the United States and Japan) that England was not able to embody in a solemn international agreement any words which would bind it to the principle of mathematical parity in naval strength. That statement, said Lord Cecil, if persisted in, banged, barred, and bolted the door against any hope of a further agreement with the United States on naval armaments.

Lord Balfour said that in regard to the controversy at Geneva between Lord Cecil and the Admiralty, the Government had supported him as against their technical advisers except in regard to one point.

The fundamental difference between this country and the United States was the refusal of the latter to give any consideration whatever to what were deemed to be the special circumstances of this country, not as regarded equality of power, in which England had no desire in any sense to go beyond the equality which was the basis of the negotiations at Washington, but as regarded the small craft we needed both in peace and war to preserve the Empire in security.

Connie and Don

It's hard to tell what this is all about unless Connie Talmadge is telling Don Alvarado about her recent divorce. Both seem a bit pensive.

Attractive Booth Of Handkerchiefs Interests Shoppers

An unusual and attractive booth of handkerchiefs has been arranged at the New Castle Dry Goods Company store that is causing a great amount of interest among shoppers as they pass by.

Over 5,000 white handkerchiefs, bordered with many of various bright colors, have been arranged in five arches in the section of the first floor of the store that is given over to the sale of handkerchiefs.

This year an unusual effect has been made by constructing the booth of one-inch wire netting and the handkerchiefs are pushed through the meshes of the netting and thus the corners of the handkerchiefs are seen from the front and the arrangement gives the white linen a very fluffy and snowlike effect.

Each of the five arches is about nine feet long and extends above the counter about 5 1-2 feet. The arches are bordered with many beautiful colored handkerchiefs, while above is the snowlike bank of thousands of the white handkerchiefs.

Many people pause to admire the ful and attractive arrangement.

Goldman's Band Date Is Changed

Will Appear In New Castle In Spring Instead Of December 5

Announcement has just been received from the Goldman Band management that it has been forced to postpone its western tour until April and May and will appear in New Castle on the evening of May first, next.

The Goldman Band was scheduled to appear in the Scottish Rite auditorium on Monday evening, December 5 but complications in regards to its New York city contracts have developed within the past few days which have made it necessary for the management to postpone its tour out of the metropolis until spring. The Goldman Band is one of the world's greatest musical organizations, but due to its permanent obligations in New York city, it is rarely able to make a tour. Although somewhat disappointed in the postponement, New Castle will await with much interest its appearance here in May.

Woman Is Killed By Falling Jar

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—A quart jar of sauerkraut falling from a shelf yesterday killed Mrs. Anna Roeschenthaler, 73, of 37 Boroview avenue, Carnegie. With a vein in her foot severed, she bled to death before she could summon aid.

Mrs. Roeschenthaler, alone in the house, was bottling preserves in the cellar. When the quart jar fell on her foot she started upstairs and collapsed in the kitchen. Her daughter returned home at four o'clock and summoned Dr. H. A. Klee, who said she had been dead about a half hour.

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 8345 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo. CONSTIPATION SAPS VITAL STRENGTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings quick, natural relief!

Don't permit faulty elimination to undermine your health. It is the cause of widespread suffering and pain. Dizziness, spots before the eyes, headaches, sleeplessness—are just a few of the symptoms of this scourge.

Guard against it. Prevent it in the way that is nature's own method of combating illness. By including plenty of healthful "bulk" in your daily meals.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Kellogg's is 100% bran or "bulk." It accomplishes results no part-bran product can equal. That is why doctors recommend it.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. Two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases, with every meal. Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey for an extra treat. Mix it with other cereals. Use it in cooking. Appetizing recipes on every package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere.

Three Face Murder Charge As Stray Shot Kills Man

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—Murder charges are to be made against three men who yesterday in a marksmanship practice shot through the door of a poolroom at Star Junction and killed John Puscar.

The men were shooting at a hinge of the door when the bullet from a 22-caliber rifle went wide of the mark. It struck Puscar, standing on the other side of the door, and killed him. The bullet went through the door.

Those arrested are Daniel Stevick, who actually fired the shot, and Mike McHugh, both of Export, Pa., and William O'Brien of Star Junction.

Many Fish Planted In Connoquenessing

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 29.—Efforts are being made to replenish the Connoquenessing with fish following the killing of thousands of the finny denizens of the stream during the past summer when acid from a pickling vat of a local steel plant polluted the creek. During the past week 30,000 Lake Erie blue gills have been planted in the stream by the Izaak Walton league members of Millvale, Harmony, Evans City and Pittsburgh chapters.

This is the largest number of fish ever to be distributed at any one time in a stream in Pennsylvania and the fishermen of the Walton leagues worked hard to secure them. There were 80 cans and the splendid co-operation given by Commissioner N. R. Buller has won wide comment among the anglers.

The fish were planted in the stream over a ten-mile stretch from Buhl to Fombell and Fish Warden John C. Mock spent the day with the men engaged. Further efforts to secure additional fish for planting purposes will be made and it is expected that during the coming summer bass and other game fish will be planted and every angler will work to get the stream back into the fine shape that it once was for fishing.

Brown Has Desk Room In Stevenson's Office

Probabilities are that W. A. Brown, sealer of weights and measures, will permanently occupy desk room in the office of Inspector of Plumbing Ed. Stevenson, second floor, City Building. The desk formerly was used by William Williams, Sr., prior to the County of Lawrence assuming control of the New Castle district of the poor.

Brown had occupied quarters above the garage for city police apparatus.

It was found necessary for the city to use the room for other purposes and Brown was assigned his new quarters.

Most of his material, such as weights and measures remain in his old quarters.

"Gas" Stations Here There And Everywhere

Some Of Stations Are Big, Mansionlike And Imposing Affairs

OTHERS ARE MERELY PUMPS WITH "GAS"

Here, there and everywhere.

On the street, curb, back in the yard and from big and little "pump" almost anywhere one gazes.

There is no reason why anyone should go minus "gas" providing he or she has the money with which to purchase.

At least that is what Neal Williams, city engineering department, declares.

"There are some large, beautiful stations here" he said today. "They occupy prominent corners.

"Most of the big mansion-like buildings are situated were traffic flows largest.

"Then there are 33 stations—gasoline pumps situated along the curbs.

"About 66 other gasoline pumps are placed back on the property of the proprietor" he said.

This year to sit a pump at the curb costs the operator of the device $25 Williams states.

Auto Is Damaged By Fire Monday

Automobile of Mrs. J. Hanna was damaged by fire to the extent of $25 late Monday afternoon at 634 East Washington street, where a boy was engaged in repairing the carburetor of the machine. He had disconnected the gasoline line without shutting off the gasoline and when the gasoline struck the hot exhaust pipe, the gasoline ignited. The firemen were called by an alarm from box 45 at 5:40 o'clock.

Barber's Banquet On December 7

"Chirotonsors" To Wield Knife And Fork In Annual Get-Together

Knights of the Razor and Scissor, propellors of the electrical clipper and disciples of Bay rum will hold their annual get-together, or in other words, a banquet Wednesday, December 7, at the Elks club. All the union barbers with their bosses will be present.

And when they gather around the festive board there will be reminiscences of the days when a barber shop was not a "bobbing shop;" when men could smoke their cigarette and flick it into any corner of the room without it alighting on a Flapper's zipper.

The barbers will hearken back to the days when the comic magazines, the Police Gazette and other florid magazines lay waiting for reading while one waited his turn. Nowadays the "bobber's shop" is cluttered with magazines showing ladies fashion and cosmetics.

According to Sol Davis who is a member of the committee, the deans of the profession will be there.

With the revolution of the women, the short skirt, the cut hair, business has increased and where once upon a time the barber only shaved father, he now does business for the entire family, be he male or be she female.

Instead of knives and forks being used as cutlery to carve the elusive wing of a chicken there'll be a sharp pair of scissors and a razor. For sauce there will be hair tonic and instead of napkins there'll be small towels.

It's going to be a great banquet—a unique affair. No tales will be told for a barber, noted for his ability to solve the questions of the day while he has you down with a razor at your throat, will abandon their professional talk, December 7.

Rabbit-Like Feet Cost Hunter Pain

PATCHOGUE, N. Y., Nov. 29. — Harry Meinch mistook the feet of his friend, George Webb, for a pair of restive rabbits.

Physicians at Unger's hospital in Patchogue picked most of the gun shot out of Webb's feet and legs and predicted that he would have difficulty in walking for several weeks.

Meinch and Webb were hunting in the scrub oak, near Patchogue. Webb lay down for a brief rest. His feet protruded above low-lying brush.

Board Of Inquiry To Probe Fatal Crash Of Plane

Plane Disaster Near Uniontown Fatal To Army Fliers Will Be Probed

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—Investigation of the fatal plane crash near Hopwood which cost the lives of E. R. Emory, pilot, and William D. Zollman, mechanic, United States army, will begin upon the arrival of a board of inquiry from Washington, who are expected today or Wednesday.

Officials of Burgess Field believe the airmen were unable to surmount the mountain ridge near the scene of the accident, because of a defect in their plane, and leaped in parachutes at too low an altitude. Examination of the speedometer of the wrecked plane showed that it was traveling 150 miles an hour.

Petition Fisher To Interfere In Eviction Cases

Miners' Families Petition Governor To Interfere In Eviction Suits

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—Telegrams petitioning Governor John S. Fisher to take a hand in the soft coal miners' eviction cases here were dispatched today by business men of New Kensington, and all of the women of Indianola, mining community of the Inland Coal Co.

The telegrams were sent as a protest when attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America failed to secure an agreement with attorneys for the company allowing sufficient time for the union to construct barracks to house the evicted families, Philip Murray, international vice president announced today.

Hope To Shorten Detour To Edenburg

Believe Part Of Concrete Highway Can Soon Be Placed In Use

Before rain started last week-end the Woods & Golder Construction company finished the pouring of concrete on this end of the New Castle-Edinburg road, thus tying it in with the improved New Castle-Youngstown road at the Parkstown corner.

In two or three weeks the concrete will be seasoned sufficiently to allow travel over it. The contractors are hoping in a few days to finish the concreting at the other end far enough that traffic may be directed over the stone road for the winter.

If the weather permits the finishing of this work it will allow travel to Edinburg to pass over the new concrete road to the crossroads and then by way of the stone road to Edinburg.

The contractors still hope to finish the entire road to Edinburg before winter sets in in real earnest, but it is doubtful whether sufficient good weather will allow this to be done.

Young Farmer Is Hurt By Bailer

KNOX, Pa., Nov. 29.—George Youkers, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Youkers of Knox, suffered a broken nose a fractured upper jaw bone and lacerations and bruises in an accident at a well on the Whitling farm, Youkers and Isaac Fisher were preparing to run the bailer when Youkers became caught in the sand rope in some manner and was drawn against the guards of the bull wheel. After first aid treatment he was taken to the Oil City hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Finds Sale Bills Were Torn Down

Owing to the fact that sale bills which had been posted near the Piedmont farm on the Wampum road, had been torn down, Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds yesterday postponed a sale of personal property which was to have taken place on Monday, until December 1, at one p. m. A number of bills had been posted conspicuously in the vicinity, but they were all missing when Deputy Sheriff Reynolds made an investigation. He is at a loss to account for it and is making an investigation.

Elks Prepare To Help Needy Folk

Will Present Baskets Of Substantial Food To Unfortunates

CHILDREN WILL GET TREAT CHRISTMAS DAY

Members of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, Lodge 69, this city, are preparing to scatter cheer among the unfortunate families of New Castle, Christmas day, as has been their annual custom for many years.

According to officers of the Elks, a committee has been selected to arrange to present baskets filled with substantial foods to needy families. Children will receive their treat Christmas morning when they view the Elks Christmas tree at the Elks home.

The fund to provide the baskets and children's treat is made up by donations of members of the lodge during November and December of each year. Various members furnish automobiles to deliver the baskets to the homes.

Dismantle One Garbage Furnace

Remodeling Of Walls And Installation Of Furnaces Under Way

GARBAGE COLLECTION SHOWS BIG DECREASE

Hiler Engineering & Construction company employes are tearing down one of the two furnaces at the Garbage plant to make way for bigger and larger furnaces which, it is believed by the city officials, will produce better results at the plant. It is planned to remodel the plant and install two new furnaces.

According to Superintendent Howard Phillips, outside forms have been filled with concrete but actual laying of brick walls has not commenced. Owing to the dismantling of the one furnace, only one furnace is in operation.

The superintendent reports that the collection of garbage has fallen off considerably and that there will be no big delay in the collection as four trucks are operating every day collecting garbage and one truck is used to haul away tin cans.

Make Report Of Minor Accidents

Cars Are Damaged Slightly In Traffic Accidents; No One Is Hurt

A number of minor automobile accidents were reported to the police Monday afternoon and evening. Some damage was done and no person was reported as being injured.

William Foster, 248 Fern street, reported that he had his machine parked in front of an A. & P. store when the car of Lew Morrow hit and damaged his machine. Mr. Foster was just getting out of his car and was knocked back into his machine but not injured.

H. G. McEwen of 106 South Mulberry street reported that he was driving east on Croton avenue and making a left hand turn into Haus avenue when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 836-022 going in the same direction and following his machine ran into and damaged it.

William E. Richardson, 203½ North Liberty street, reported that he was driving west on West Washington street at Norris way, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license C55-474 backed into and damaged his machine.

Rabbi Hailperin Speaker At Meeting Of Local Hadassah

On the occasion of Hadassah Sabbath which is always held close to the festival of Chanakah, the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah and local Zionist District have secured Rabbi Herman H. Hailperin of the Tree of Life Synagogue Pittsburgh, as the speaker.

Rabbi Hailperin is an eloquent speaker and scholastic man. His topic "My Trip to Palestine" will be very much worth while. He will speak on Sunday evening December 4 in the Beth Sholem Centre.

Hadassah Sabbath always inaugurates an intensive membership campaign for the Zionist District, as well as Hadassah and with the latter will terminate in a Membership Tea to take place in the middle of December.

Mrs. Eli Kaplan membership chairman of Hadassah will preside on the evening of December 4. Dr. Hyman Frank, chairman of the local District, will speak.

A fine musical program in keeping with the occasion will comprise the balance of the program.

A new invention of interest to card players has just been patented in Vienna—cards made of aluminum and celluloid, which will last a long time. Another advantage is that they can be easily cleaned to look like new.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kut Rate, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

NEW FORD CAR FRIDAY, DEC. 2nd

—o—

UNIVERSAL SALES CO.

AUTHORIZED FORD DEALERS

420 Croton Avenue Bell 512

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE NEW FORD CAR

Complete details of the new model will be available this FRIDAY in this city

FRIDAY of this week will unquestionably be one of the most important days in the entire life of the automobile industry. On that day, complete details of the new Ford will be available in this city.

You will be surprised when you get the facts about the new Ford car, for you never have dreamed that such a really fine car could be produced at a low price. As Henry Ford himself says—

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

The new Ford car is distinctly a new and modern car, designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

An entirely new car in every respect

The minute you see it—ride in it—you will realize that it is not a mere refinement of the former model T Ford, but a new car from radiator cap to rear axle! Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price.

The new Ford car has unusual beauty of line and color. . . . It has a 40-horse-power engine. . . . It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has actually run 65 miles an hour on road tests. . . . It is quiet and smooth-running at all speeds. . . . It is remarkably quick on the get-away. . . . It has specially designed mechanical four-wheel brakes. . . . It has hydraulic shock absorbers. . . . It has a standard, selective gear shift. . . . It is quick and easy to handle in traffic and steady and sure on the open road. . . . It runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline, depending on your speed. . . . And it has the stamina and reliability that you need for mile-after-mile and year-after-year service.

The new Ford car has exceptional beauty of line and color. It is, in every respect, a new and modern car, designed and created to meet modern conditions.

The new Ford car will sell at a surprisingly low price

When you think of such features as these, you think instinctively of a car costing much more than the new Ford. The low price is as unusual as the appearance and performance of the car itself.

The low prices of the six body types are undoubtedly lower than you thought they would be when you first heard that Ford was making a new car. They are, in fact, lower than we thought they could possibly be when we started to make this car.

We determined to bring new comfort, beauty, speed, safety, economy and reliability within reach of everybody who drives a car, and then forced ourselves to find ways to make the low prices possible.

The new Ford car is the result of years of careful planning. Every part of it has been tested and retested in actual practice. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it is the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the lifetime of the Ford business.

The new Ford has unusual speed and power. It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has run 65 miles an hour on road tests.

Some of the features of the new Ford car

In this connection we call your particular attention to the new engine; the new pump, splash and gravity oil system; the multiple dry-disc clutch; the new pump and thermo-syphon cooling system; the new battery, coil and distributor ignition; the low center of gravity and minimum unsprung weight which combine with the hydraulic shock absorbers to make the new Ford such an easy-riding car; the irreversible steering gear, with the column and the housing of the steering gear mechanism welded into a single all-steel unit; the seamless, all-steel torque tube; the new one-piece, welded, steel-spoke wheels; the three-quarters-floating rear axle in a forged-steel housing of exceptional strength; the theft-proof coincidental lock; and the aluminum pistons which were selected after many tests because of their light weight and heat-conducting qualities.

Steel forgings are used throughout

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Henry Ford

except, of course, for the engine castings. More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs. Because we own our own ore mines, coal mines and timber lands and the source of most of our raw materials. Because we make virtually every part used in the new Ford car. Because it is the Ford policy to make a small profit on a large number of cars, rather than a large profit on a small number of cars.

There is nothing like it in quality or price

No other manufacturer can possibly duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do. The public made this business possible. We believe we should share our profits with the public by continually giving greater and greater value for the money.

There are good and substantial reasons, therefore, why the new Ford car is the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

By all means, learn about the new Ford on Friday when it is officially announced in this city. You will know then that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

Splendid Addresses Feature Meeting In First M. E. Church

Worth While Topics Discussed By Prominent Leaders At Annual Fall Meeting

E. Dow Bancroft, one of the outstanding laymen of Ohio made the principal address at the evening session of the annual fall meeting of the ministers and laymen of New Castle District of Erie Conference, Methodist Episcopal church which took place in the First M. E. church of this city.

Mr. Bancroft spoke on "What the Layman Can Do to Help the Total Program of the Church." He stressed the fact of mobilizing the men of the church for specific church activities. His address was most inspiring and interesting.

Music by the Sunday School orchestra was an outstanding feature of the evening.

At the afternoon session, Rev. C. G. Farr of Sharon gave an excellent address on "The Advancing Church." Rev. Farr spoke of the church as being a power in the community. If the church had no critics it would be powerless. Criticisms are evidences of its vitality. If the bootlegger could render the church powerless he would have an easy path.

The speaker emphasized that it is through the church that the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. render a moral and social service, and through the church that the Anti-Saloon League fights intemperance. Other paramount issues that are gained through the church were named by Rev. Farr.

Some people think that the church is not doing the good it did twenty five years ago. A changing world must have changing church methods.

Rev. Farr showed statistics that the Protestant churches are growing in number each year in spite of the fact that magazines and papers are circulating propaganda to the contrary.

"A Man's Religion in 1928," was well discussed by Leo McKay of Mercer. Mr. McKay said that the majority of men would rather attend a Bible class than a church service, preferring the shorter service to the long drawn out worship period.

Other speakers of the afternoon included R. A. McKinney, teacher of the McKinney Bible class of this city, W. G. Smeltzer and Rev. James Charbonnier.

During the business session a commission was appointed to provide a home or to rent a house for the District Superintendent. The question of combining the Erie Conference with the Pittsburgh conference was discussed.

Formerly acorns were used for human food, and at times of scarcity are still eaten by the peasantry in continental Europe.

Bodies Of Ohio Aviators Found

Army Plane, Missing Three Days, Crashed Into Hill Near Uniontown, Pa.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—The rugged mountains of Pennsylvania, nemesis of aviators, have claimed the lives of two additional birdmen.

Missing for three days, the crushed bodies of Pilot E. R. Emery of Newark, O., and Mechanic William D. Zolman of Fredericktown, O., were found Monday afternoon in a dense forest near the top of a mountain ridge in one of the wildest sections of Fayette county.

Strewn over an area of several hundred feet was the wreckage of the heavy Douglas O-2 plane.

It was the general belief of airmen here that the aviators, beset by motor trouble and lost in a heavy fog and rain Friday afternoon, abandoned hope of locating Burgess Field on the outskirts of Uniontown and decided to jump.

At the time it was believed they were but 300 feet above the mountain tree tops, not sufficient altitude to allow their parachutes to function.

Parachute Partly Opened.

Emery's parachute was partly opened while Zolman's was still strapped tightly to his back.

Most of the plane wreckage was found on the east side of Lick Run, a mountain stream swollen by recent rains.

On the other side of the run, some 200 feet away, were the crushed bodies.

Evidence of the terrific force with which the plane struck was found in the fact that even the big motor was shattered into pieces.

Drum And Bugle Corps Parades In Sharpsville

Dozen Candidates Are Initiated Into Legions' 40 And 8 Saturday Evening

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 29.—The American Legion drum and bugle corps of Grove City Post No. 220 paraded in Sharpsville Saturday evening as a feature of the "wreck" of the Mercer County Voiture of the Forty and Eight.

The corps with its 25 members dressed in uniform of blue and white made a fine showing before the crowds which gathered to witness the parade.

During the evening meeting a dozen candidates were initiated into the organization four of whom were from Grove City. Harvey Young, George Monroe, Walter Kern and Shorty Rodgers were taken in.

Hunting License Sales Are Lower

Probably 20,000 Less In State Than During Season Of 1926

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Although nine counties have requested special issues of 1927 hunters' licenses, officials of the state game commission said today that they expect the issue this year will be at least 20,000 less than in 1926, when 521,000 were sold.

Final reports on the number of licenses sold are not made to the commission until early in January. Requests for special issues indicate that the number of those sent out are almost, but not entirely, exhausted, it was said.

Counties which have requested special issues are Allegheny, Blair, Bucks, Fayette, Greene, Northampton, Montgomery, Philadelphia and Wyoming. Opening of the deer season on Thursday may cause additional requests.

John B. Truman, executive secretary to the commission, said that reports indicated that the increased cost of hunters' licenses will not materially affect the issue in the larger and more populous counties but will reduce it in those where the majority of the hunters are land owners. A license is not necessary for a man who hunts on his own land.

The cost of the licenses was raised from $1.50 to $2.00 by the last legislature.

Seven Thousand Letters With Tuberculosis Seals Sent Out In Mails Here

Seven thousand letters—each one of them containing tuberculosis Christmas seals, today are in the hands of as many Lawrence county families, sent by the local branch of the National Tuberculosis association.

For today marks the opening of the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals in the county, and it will be conducted entirely by mail by Miss Della Glenn, who is in charge of the work in the county.

Almost 900,000 letters containing the seals have been mailed to residents of all parts of Pennsylvania as the 20th annual seal sale gets under way.

The state chairman, Col. H. W. Shoemaker, in a letter to Miss Glenn, explains why the seals are sold by mail instead of personally.

"It is found," he states, "that the mailing of Christmas seals to individuals, business concerns and others is the best method of distributing these pretty holiday seals, for the valuable time of persons who might comprise teams to sell seals is saved, and many busy persons are saved the annoyance of having a solicitor call, as well as the time involved."

In explanation, it might be well to state, says Miss Della Glenn, that there is no obligation resting on the recipient. The seals can be purchased or they can be returned. It is found, though, that most persons are glad to help in this great united campaign against the white plague, tuberculosis.

Miss Glenn also wishes to state that any person or firm who did not get seals through the mail, and might wish them, can call at the tuberculosis association, 8½ East street, or call 587-J on the phone and someone will be glad to take them to you.

Has Difficult Role In Senior High Play

MAC CHAMBERS.

When the curtain rises Thursday night for "Pollyanna" one of the actors waiting in the wings for his cue will be Mac Chambers. He will enter as the middle-aged Doctor Chilton whose tragic love-affair in youth has not yet succeeded in making him cynical and unromantic. Hope seems to spring eternal in his breast and he attaches a "perhaps" to the future when he begins the twentieth year of snubbing at the hands of the lady concerned.

Mac's genial soul is quite equal to interpreting the part of this loyal and forgiving gentleman without allowing the character to become sentimental. A fine piece of acting is called for and Mr. Chambers is rendering complete satisfaction in the rehearsals.

Charge Violation Of White Slave Act

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—Donald Eason Lighthill was enroute to Chicago today for trial on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act. Federal Judge R. M. Gibson signed an order for Lighthill's removal to Chicago after his arrest here by special agents of the department of justice, on a warrant, based on a certified copy of an indictment in the Chicago federal court, charging Lighthill with unlawfully transporting a woman from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT.

Honey is always at its best at this time of the year and it never tastes quite so good as when it is served with hot biscuits. Any hearty luncheon dish may be served with the biscuits and honey but the salad has particular value because it furnishes something crisp and green to offset the somewhat cloying sweetness of the honey.

Luncheon Salad
Hot Biscuits Honey
Coffee or Tea.

Today's Recipes.

Luncheon Salad—Two cups cooked macaroni, three tomatoes, two stalks celery, four hard-boiled eggs, small pieces crisp bacon, one onion, olives, one green pepper. Add any leftover vegetables, such as beans or peas; small amount of green tomato pickle. Mix with half and half mayonnaise and chili sauce. Garnish with lettuce.

SUGGESTIONS.

Romper Rules.

The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a leaflet on materials and best ways of making children's rompers. Romper rules as compiled by the department for the aid of young mothers are as follows:

Cotton fabrics that will stand frequent washings and ironing are best for rompers.

Children over three years should have garments with a front opening to make dressing easier.

Collars are unnecessary on rompers.

Raglan sleeves or kimono sleeves with a seam on the shoulder permit the greatest amount of freedom.

There should be plenty of fullness over the chest.

The legs should be straight or should have loose bands. If the bands are used the length should be determined by the measurement of the child's thigh 5 inches above the knee.

The blouse of the romper legs should be in the width not in the length.

Buttons should be fairly large in size and the buttonholes should be firm. It is a good plan to reinforce bands where the buttonholes are to be worked. The buttons should be sewed on firmly and have a long shank.

Garments to be ironed with a mangle should have closings heavily faced back on the side having the buttons so that the buttons will sink into the cloth and go through the mangle without breaking.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found how to save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Would Put 435 Limit On Seats In Congress

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Believing that the country has enough congressmen, two house members today declared they would make a fight to place a permanent limit of 435 upon the membership of the "popular branch" of congress.

The proposal will be incorporated in reapportionment bills to be offered by Rep. Fenn, (R.) of Connecticut, chairman of the house census committee, and Rep. McLeod (R.) of Michigan.

Despite criticism of some members that the lower house is an unwieldy body because of its large membership, strong pressure is being exerted from many states to raise the membership.

The Fenn and McLeod bills will seek to accomplish substantially the same result by different means. Both would provide for reapportionment of the house membership by the secretary of commerce after each new census. Congress now does this.

Although the constitution requires reapportionment each ten years—based upon growth of the nation—no change has been made in the house membership since 1911. Unless action is taken before 1930 this section of the constitution will be completely nullified, Rep. Fenn declared.

Michigan and California are among the chief sufferers from the present situation, because of their growth in the last few years. On the present basis, both states are entitled to additional members of congress.

Advocates of enlargement of the house point to the size of the English House of Commons, which is about 600, and to the "ppopular branches" of other European nations, which are proportionately as large.

St. Luke's A. M. E. Church To Celebrate 83rd Anniversary

The Pastor, Rev. A. C. Bell, Has Completed Special Program For The Event

Congregation of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, Elm street have completed plans for the celebration of the eighty-third anniversary of the organization of the church to begin on Monday evening, December 5 and continue until December 11.

St. Luke's church is the oldest Negro church in Lawrence county. It was organized in the year 1844 with the following men as trustees: Daniel Storks, Thomas Hall, John Harris and Elijah Harris. The church was then known as the M. E. church and the first building was erected on North Shenango street. It was moved from there to West Lincoln avenue and from there to Elm street the present site of the building.

This church joined the African Methodist Episcopal connection in 1887 during the pastorate of Rev. James Thomas. During the ministry of Rev. G. W. Kincaid the foundation upon which the present building stands was laid and the church was later completed while Rev. W. R. Christian was pastor.

The present pastor, Rev. A. C. Bell assumed the charge of the local church on June 19, 1926, coming to this city from Woodlawn where he was pastor for three years. Rev. Bell first came to New Castle in 1917 from Detroit. He became a member of St. Luke's church where he served as a trustee for a number of years. While here he was licensed to preach. In 1919 he joined the Ohio Conference and a year later he received his first appointment to preach in Beaver county. He also served a pastorate at Franklin, Pa.

The following congregations will co-operate with the celebration during the week which will conclude with a program given by the Young People's Council of Lawrence County Sunday School Association.

Monday evening—the Union Baptist and St. Paul's Baptist church.

Tuesday evening—The Second Baptist and the Bethel A. M. E. church.

Wednesday evening—The Home Missionary Society, Payne A. M. E. Mission, St. John's United Holy church and the Free Will Baptist church.

Thursday evening—Dr. G. W. Kincaid of Pittsburgh will preach.

Friday evening—A Community program.

Sunday morning and evening—Rev. W. R. Christian will speak.

At two o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Young People's Council of the Lawrence County Sunday School Association will render a program.

Credit Men Meet Monday Evening

A. Green Addresses Meeting Of Members On "Credits And Conditions"

About 25 members of the New Castle Association of Credit Men met at a combined dinner party and business meeting Monday evening at the Elks' Club.

Adolph Green, president of the Peoples' Saving and Trust company, made the address of the evening when he spoke on "Credits and Conditions." International commerce was reviewed by Mr. Green, and he outlined the different methods by which the manufacturers of the United States could compete with the cheaper goods which are made in European countries.

Following Mr. Green's speech, Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange made a few remarks about the co-operation that he is receiving from the 220 members through the central office in the Greer building.

Roy Jameson, secretary of the New Castle Association of Credit Men then stressed the importance of working with the central office on all things pertaining to credit, and B. F. Moorehead of the J. J. Dean company then congratulated Mr. Green on the able speech that he had made on international trade.

Beware Of Dope!

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—"The poppy fields of Flanders will ever be an object of affection, pride and sadness to American citizens. But the poppy fields of China can only be viewed with anxiety and pity. Both localities represent sacrifice and misery. The former because of patriotic devotion; the latter because of the unfortunate slavery it generates," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, today.

"It is not usually the case that conditions so many thousands of miles away as the Orient directly affect American citizens. But in this particular instance the United States is the most victimized of all nations because it has the most money.

"The wild-poppy fields of the east cause much misery, suffering and torture in this country. From these beautiful flowers opium and its derivatives are obtained. When properly used by physicians these drugs have a merciful and important mission to perform. On the other hand, when under the control of conscienceless exploitation they create habit and ruin thousands of American lives.

"Working always under cover, greed has developed an immense trafficking organization with all the executive refinements of production, distribution and consumption. It is a tremendous and death-dealing business. The stake, thousands of ruined lives and millions in gold.

"While sensational statements and figures must not be relied upon, there are yet sufficient facts upon which to base an antagonistic interest on the drug question.

"Measures for legal control do not, and perhaps never will, fully protect against this devastating enemy. On the other hand, knowledge is a most effective weapon. While many have deliberately and with their eyes more or less open taken the first step in this unfortunate habit, there have been an even greater number who were enslaved because of ignorance. In this number are women of refinement who took headache cures or pain killers at the suggestion of 'friends'. Young school children who have been urged to 'take this to set you up.'

"Fortunately the narcotic drug habit is still unknown and will likely remain so to the vast majority of Pennsylvania citizens; however, too many of them have already been victimized. Unless the bare facts of this insidious evil are brought to light, many others will suffer too.

"A safe rule to follow is never under any circumstances to accept medicine from a friend. Medicine should be taken only upon the advice of a competent physician. Instruct your children to avoid any powders or pills handed to them by older people or people of their own age, whether they are friends or strangers. And, of course, avoid them yourself.

"Become acquainted with the real facts in the drug problem. Beware of dope!"

Wednesday will probably be the largest day in New Castle's history in the point of volume of retail sales. The people of this community are very fortunate in having merchants whose enterprise make such opportunity. Many "well known brands" of merchandise will be offered at the lowest prices of the year, often at actual cost or less. There are many things which "castle day" merchants will not do to create business—Remember, no article is so cheap that some man cannot make it a little poorer to sell a little cheaper. Quality at "castle day" stores is never sacrificed to provide lower prices. A lower price at the sacrifice of quality does not constitute value. Each "castle day" store maintains its identity in this sale, selling for cash or credit as is their individual custom.

This sale which easily outclasses them all and clearly and unmistakably defines the value-giving dominance of "castle day" stores is for one day only, tomorrow, Wednesday, November 30th. Check this list to your right and bring it along so that you can easily know at which store the value may be found.

ALL STORES OPEN AT 8 O'CLOCK

PHONE 4220 BETWEEN 6 & 9 P. M.

Telephone orders will be taken tonight between 6 and 9 p. m. If you have an account at "castle day" stores—deliveries will be made Friday or Saturday. If you do not have an account any article will be reserved until 4 p. m. (Call for telephone orders at cashier desk of the respective stores. To facilitate matters please carry your small packages.

For apparent reasons some stores may attempt to undersell "castle day" stores on certain items—no matter what "castle day" advertised price is—"castle day" stores guarantee the lowest prevailing price on every item—even though the prevailing price is less than the quality warrants. This policy likewise applies to hundreds of other non-advertised items. The advertised items are only a brief example of the low prices prevailing tomorrow at "castle day" stores. This sale is for one day only, tomorrow, Wednesday, November 30th.

PENNSYLVANIA MINERS HARD HIT BY STRIKE CRISIS

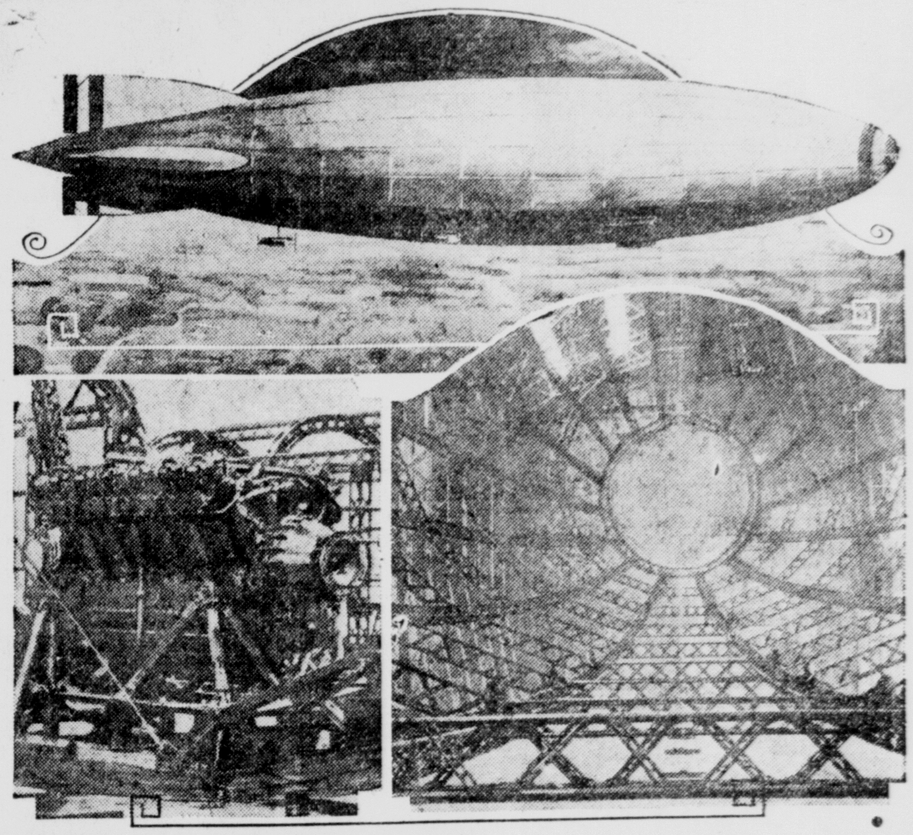
(International Newsreel)

WAX GODIVA TOOK HER PLACE

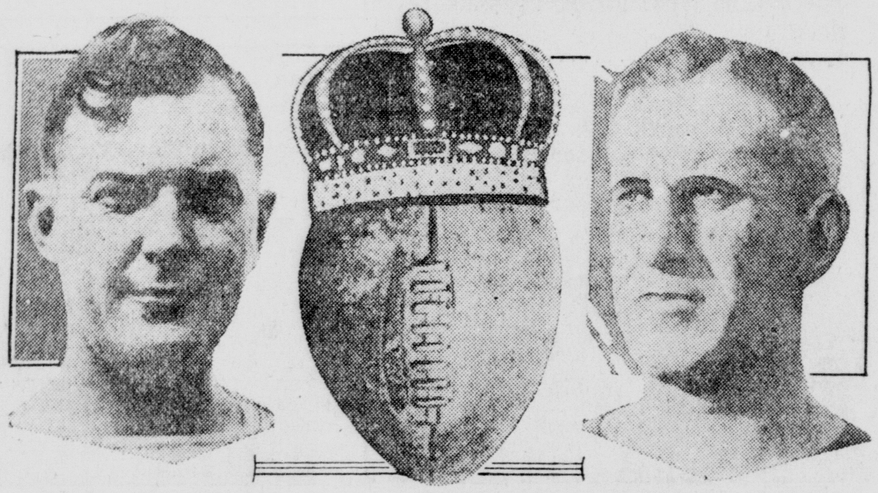
Miss Rosalind Hightower, of Detroit, was supposed to impersonate Lady Godiva—she of undraped fame—at the Chicago Arts ball. But she didn't. She was all ready to appear wearing her golden hair and a gown of nothing. But something happened. The stunt was called off. Instead, there was a shapely figure in wax, with a blonde wig—in a frame. Photo shows Miss Hightower.

ENGLAND'S MAMMOTH AIR LINER BEING CONSTRUCTED



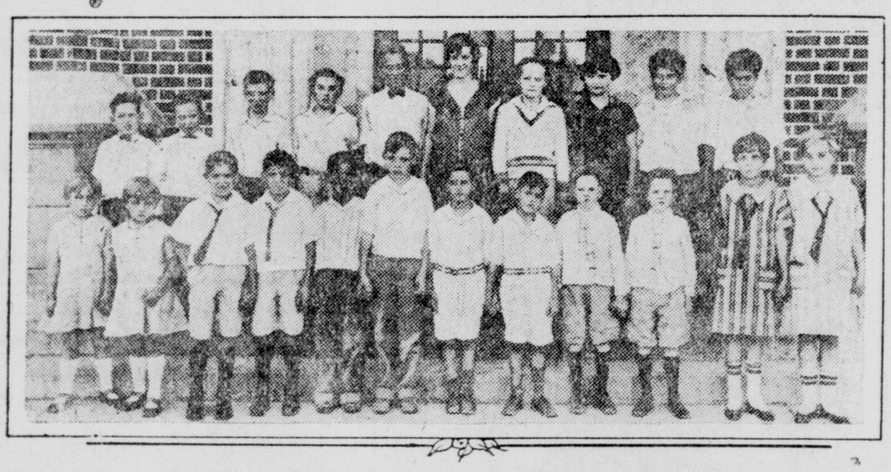
These views are the first of a mammoth air liner, the R-100, under construction at Howden, England, for the British air ministry. The ship is to have a cruising radius of 4,500 miles, a capacity of 100 passengers, in addition to a crew of 35, and 10 tons of mail or freight. It is 709 feet long and 130 feet high. Driving power is to be furnished by six Rolls Royce engines and the cruising speed of the liner will be 75 miles an hour. Photo above is the builder's design of the completed ship. Below, left, a view of one of the motors, and, right, the interior of the huge hull.

CRY FOR WINTER TILT BETWEEN JONES BOYS' TEAMS



A decidedly exciting football season has come to a close and the stove league is talking it over. The "remember-when" boys are agreed that the Jones brothers—Tad and Howard—did their bit to make the season a good one. Tad's Yale eleven was the cream of the east, while Howard's University of California gridders were the pride of the Pacific coast. Fans, from one end of the country to the other, are howling for a mid-winter game beetween the two teams.

THEY COME IN PAIRS TO CALIFORNIA SCHOOL



When it comes to a multitude of twins in one school, Stockton, Cal., advances this group as its claim for a championship of some kind. They are registered in elementary and grammar grades, 11 pairs in all.

CHAMPION KNITTER OF THE EAST

With his favorite pipe in his mouth, his pet "Nit" by his side, and his granddaughter chatting in his ear, August Brodeen, 62, of Newark, N. J., can sit and knit by the hour. He has earned the title, "champion knitter of the east," and turns his output over to the Red Cross and Veteran's bureau.

Pilots Own Boat

AIR MANEUVERS OVER PACIFIC

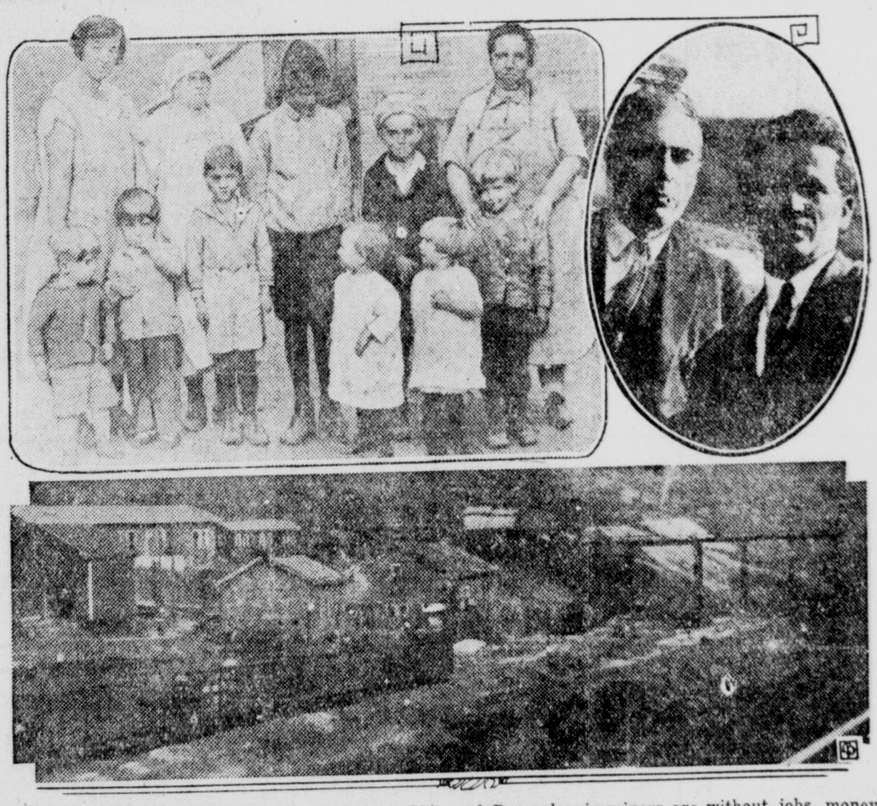
STRIKING MINERS FACE WINTER AS DEADLOCK ENSUES



As winter approaches thousands of striking Ohio and Pennsylvania miners are without jobs, money or homes. Many mine owners have brought eviction proceedings against the miners to turn them out of the company houses and the ejected families are living in barracks. Above, a mine near Martin's Ferry, O., typical of the district, and a group of miners' wives and children. Two of the strike leaders in the eastern Ohio coal fields are W. T. Roberts, state representative and secretary of the United Mine Workers, left, above, and Walter Jokovich, former board member of the organization, right. Neither side believes a settlement near, although the American Federation of Labor has urged President Coolidge to call a conference of operators and miners.

Just Plain Rabbit

Mrs. E. N. Crawford, of Georgetown, O., frankly admits that her coat is made of rabbit skins, and takes pride in it for she made it herself from the skins of 35 bunnies. Instead of masquerading the fur under a high-sounding name she speaks of the coat as "just plain rabbit."

Ask More Exemption

Increasing the income tax exemption for single persons is advocated by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women. Miss Lena Phillips of New York, president, recently appeared before the finance committee of of the national house of representatives to plead the cause. Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, of Minneapolis, is the new executive secretary of the organization.

"Tootin Mayor

Luther S. Crawford, 34, new mayor of Uniontown, Pa., is one of the most enthusiastic members of the American Legion drum and bugle corps of his city. He is believed to be one of the youngest mayors in the state, and he defeated his opponent by more than 1,200 votes in the recent elections.

Discovers Explosive

Edwin Mulvaney, Chattanooga (Tenn.) high school senior, has been awarded a four-year scholarship at the chemical warfare laboratory at Washington. Recently he concocted a creamy liquid substance which, when tested by government chemists, was found to be something new in high explosives.

Mystery Shooting

Mrs. Elsie Holt Snipes, pretty 28-year-old divorcee, of Richmond, Va., and mother of two children, who was mysteriously shot through the head, later dying at a Richmond hospital. John W. Faison, secretary and manager of a country club, who was in her apartment at the time of the shooting, took the woman to the hospital.

Young School Teacher, Alert, Probally Saves Lives Of Many Students

Teacher Hears Crackling Noise In Ceiling, Marches Students To Safety

Ceiling In Schoolroom At Derry, Pa., Gives Way, But No One Is Injured

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 29.—In the little town of Derry, near here, a school teacher, Miss Della Vitale, is a heroine today and probably forever.

For the 40 pupils who compose Miss Vitale's class in the eighth grade in the high school building here are alive and uninjured today only through the calm, clear-headed thinking of the efficient schoolma'am.

In the midst of a recitation yesterday a sharp, crackling noise was heard. Miss Vitale glanced suddenly upward. An ominous fissure had appeared in the ceiling. The alert teacher calmly marched her pupils out of the room.

After an investigation by the principal, janitor and others, the ceiling was declared safe and Miss Vitale's class re-entered. Perhaps with an intuition of impending doom, Miss Vitale told her young charges to gather around the edges of the room, vacating the seats in the middle, directly under the crack in the ceiling.

Ceiling Crashes

Recitations were resumed. Suddenly—with a roaring rush the ceiling loosened and crashed. Tons of hard mortar, steel metal work and wire boomed to the floor amid dense clouds of plaster dust and startled, frightened cries of girls and boys.

But the brunt of the damage was done to the center of the room, where masses of debris was piled on desks and seats which had been vacated on the order of Miss Vitale. Only a few children suffered slight scratches.

And today Miss Vitale occupied the warmest place in the hearts of 40 families, for 40 bright little faces were smiling, while 40 families offer up thanks that the tots are not lying pale and wan on 40 little death biers and sickbeds. And the rest of the small town of Derry offered thanksgiving also, for the averting of the sad publicity that may have resulted from the tragedy of wholesale deaths, thanksgiving for the excellent judgment and initiative of Miss Della Vitale, school teacher, eighth grade, Derry.

And if a man buys better traps than his neighbor, the world of bill collectors makes a beaten path to his door.

Funeral Services For John R. Miller Largely Attended

Schoolmates Of Young Man Act As Pallbearers At Funeral Monday Afternoon

Funeral services for John R. Miller, were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Westfield Presbyterian church in charge of his pastor, Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, assisted by Rev. George M. Neill of the Bethel United Presbyterian church and Rev. Robert Hammil of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church.

The esteem in which the young man was held was attested by the attendance at the services, the largest ever held in the community, and the many beautiful floral offerings. Miss Frances Fullerton and Wylie Brewster sang during the services accompanied by Miss Ella Clark at the piano.

The active pallbearers were John E. Shaffer, John McCord, Norman Byers, Harry Dawson, Richard Sherer, Loyal McAnlis, James Williams and Wylie Craig. The honorary bearers were members of William Fox Sunday school class and school mates. They were Harris and Jessie McClelland, William Fox, Elizabeth Maklin, Ruth McClelland, Josephene Wallace, Jean Chambers, Mary Reed, Betty Martin, Lillian Lipp, Elsie Greider, May Gilchrist, Dale McCurley, Louis Howard, Paul McBride, Norman Gilchrist, Howard Kerr, Charles McDowell, Nels Nelson, Arthur Shoemaker and Floyd Crumbaucher. Burial was made in Westfield cemetery.

New Leader Of Citizens' League Starts To Work

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—With a pledge of renewal of its campaign against vice and lawlessness in this section, the Citizens league of Allegheny county today started work under the new executive, William J. Kane, former police official.

Meanwhile search was continued by county and city authorities for the apprehension of the former secretary, William L. King, sought on charges of conspiracy to falsely indict alleged law violators.

Eleven Warrants Are Issued To Officials For Arrest Of King

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—Eleven additional bench warrants for the arrest of William L. King, indicted former secretary of the Citizens League, wanted here on charges of conspiracy to "frame" evidence against resort proprietors, were mailed today to as many western cities. Previous warrants sent to points where it was thought King might be found, have netted no trace of him, Chief of County Detectives George W. Murren declared.

Workmen Repair Greenwood Ave.

Workmen from the city street department today are engaged in repairing Greenwood avenue, on the West Side, before cold weather sets in. Both tractors and road machines are smoothing out the holes in the street, after which it will be crowned and some work done in ditching it.

Greenwood avenue is one of the main arteries of traffic on the West Side, connecting West Washington street with the Youngstown road.

Moore To Launch Attack On Water Street "Front"

Tyler Declares That Sidewalk Along Street Must Be Cleared Immediately

Providing there is an uproar in Water street persons should not become worried; it will only be "General" Harry Moore and his army of street employes, manning "caterpillar tanks" and if necessary, picks, shovels and any other engineering implements necessary to "take the Water street front."

Last summer Councilman Walter V. Tyler described Water street as a "blockaded thoroughfare." As a result a resolution was passed, ordering city employes to have property owners clear off sidewalks.

According to Tyler today this has not been done, though Lou Pearsall was compelled to build an inside stairway and Tyler does not want Pearsall to believe the order was made—to hit only Mr. Pearsall.

He made a motion which passed council today, stating that, "providing, Mr. Mosely has instructed property owners to clear off sidewalks, the street commissioner is to proceed with the clearing of the street."

New Companionate Marriage Issue Scored By Pastor

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 29.—Companionate marriage is an insult to womanhood and counterfeit love, Dr. William H. H. Boetcker declared today in an address on "old-fashioned love" which he said was losing its hold in this country.

Withers May Have To Change Plumbing

Gilfillan Wins Fight Against City Concerning Addition To Building

City of New Castle broke even in two cases before the supreme court of Pennsylvania which handed down decisions Tuesday at Philadelphia. The city lost the Gilfillan case but won the Withers case.

In the Gilfillan case the city planning commission had refused to issue a permit so the Gilfillan company could build an addition to a Moody avenue building.

The company went to court and won the Lawrence county decision on the basis that the property was there before the city zoning law had been passed. The city appealed but lost the case.

In the Withers decision, it is alleged that plumbing which does not conform to the state plumbing code was installed in the Withers block, South Mill street.

The Lawrence county court ruled that the law had been violated and Withers appealed to the higher court and the decision confirms the action of Lawrence county court.

Today City Solicitor White said he desired time to study the decree in the Gilfillan case before he made a statement.

Referring to the Withers case, councilmen, informally at city hall, said that Withers would probably have to change the plumbing and install it according to the state plumbing code.

BOYS SNATCH POCKETBOOK

Mrs. Anna Reynolds of Lincoln avenue, reported to the police Saturday evening that while she was walking on Lincoln avenue, near the Stitzinger residence, that two small boys snatched her pocketbook from her and ran away.

Detective Logan and Officers Young, Dukes and Thompson answered the call and searched the district but were unable to locate the boys. Mrs. Reynolds was unable to give a very good description of the boys.

Check Received For Impounding Ballots

Ballots Still Being Held In Cell In County Jail By Campbell

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell this morning received a check for $254.50 from United States marshal, James C. McGregor of Pittsburgh, to cover the cost of impounding the ballots cast in the Vare-Wilson senatorial fight.

The money was for the collecting of the ballots and the services of the prothonotary as impounding officer. The ballots are still being held in a cell at the county jail. Marshal McGregor says in his letter accompanying the check that they will be called for when wanted.

Successful Fathers And Sons Banquet At U. P. Church

Attorney Clyde Gibson Gives Interesting Talk To 120 Guests At Annual Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—One of the largest and must successful fathers and sons banquets in the history of the United Presbyterian church took place Monday evening when 130 fathers and sons sat down to a delicious menu served in the church dining room, by members of the ladies classes.

The speaker of the evening was Attorney Clyde Gibson of New Castle, who gave a timely and interesting discourse. A feature of the affair was a colored orchestra, with good voices, who played and sang for the guests.

T. J. Tommason was toastmaster and introduced the son, Ralph McKim, who gave "A Toast to the Fathers". A response to this toast was made by Prof. Earl Davis with "A Toast to the Sons."

The meeting opened with the invocation pronounced by Rev. W. E. Minteer.

Matrons Entertain O. E. S. Club Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29. — Mesdames D. J. Jones, E. B. Moyer and Harvey Aiken were associate hostesses to the officers of the Eastern Star Club last evening at the Jones home on the Pittsburgh Circle.

Five tables of bridge were in play, and at the close of an interesting series of progressions, high score honors went to Mrs. Cleo McMurdo, Mrs. Cora Cunningham and Mrs. Dr. Brown.

Decorations were carried out in an abundance of feathery chysanthemums in yellow and white shades. The next meeting of the club is to take place in two weeks, place of meeting to be announced later.

Dr. Ralston Dies At Home Monday

Well-Known Local Practitioner Passes Away After Lengthy Illness Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Dr. James H. Ralston, aged 63, and one of Ellwood City's well known practitioners, passed away Monday afternoon at his home at Smiley stop. Death came as the climax to a long, painful illness which caused months of suffering to the doctor. He leaves his wife, two sons, Irwin and William, and two daughters, Mary and Camille. Also one brother, Dr. F. E. Ralston of Zelienople.

Funeral services will take place from his late home Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 with Rev. A. M. Stevenson in charge. Interment will be made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

Ellwood Merchants In Special Session

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—At a special meeting of the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce which took place Monday in the chamber headquarters, the members decided to keep their places of business open evenings from December 19 until Christmas.

The merchants also decided to adopt the same decorating scheme that was used last year, having Christmas trees decorated and lighted in front of the business establishments which are connected with the merchants division.

Li'l Annabelle

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Li'l Annabelle was awakened from her sound childish slumber this morning by the shrill siren of the fire department and the clanging of the hook and ladder, clang! clang! CLANG! Gosh! right on her street! Was she excited! "Muther!!" yelled she "where are you and what are ya doing?" It was so thrilling to hang out of the window and watch people slosh about in the wind and rain trying to discover what it was all about. The climax came when Annabell discovered that it was the high tension wire that was getting tempermental, and that her mother was planning to join the people trying to help. "Muth-er" she yelled, "Don't step on that wire—Where are ya?"

Firemen Called As Wires Flash

Crossed Wires Occasion Some Excitement On Second Street This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—At 1:15 o'clock this morning the combined elements of wind and rain caused the high tension wires on Second street in the 300 block to become water-soaked and crossed, throwing off myriads of sparks, finally bursting into flame, with a dull report which resembled the blowing out of a large fuse.

The wires were situated in front of the H. D. Parkinson and George Pugh homes. The fire department was summoned, but didn't go any nearer the wires than Glenn avenue and Second street. The wires were sagging and looked as if they might break any minute. Many excitement hunters trailed the department apparatus, parking near the scene of the freak accident. The firemen then notified the officials of the power company, who sent an electrician out immediately to prop up the wires, and the current was turned off until the damage could be mended.

After the wires had produced three large flashes, caused by the wind and rain, the storm suddenly subsided, as if having done that much damage, it was content to permit the residents of Second street to spend the balance of the night in peace, if possible.

TO BUILD GRANGE HALL

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 29.—The Pleasant Hill grange is planning to build a new grange in the near future. The grange is to be located some where near the present location of number four school house.

In order to secure more funds, the grange will hold an entertainment Friday evening in the First Methodist church of Wurtemburg.

M. J. Hazen of Pleasant Hill, is president of the grange and with a number of other good leaders, the grange will come to as high standard as most of the other granges.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hermon, Butler and Francis, C. H. Butler and daughter, Ada Jean, motored to Youngstown Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cooper.

Mrs. Mary Brown, Kay street, who is quite ill is not improved.

Mr. and Mrs. David Morrow, Miss Matilda and Chas. Morrow motored to New Castle Sunday.

Wanted Needles To Ward Off Disease

READING, Pa., Nov. 29.—A Berks county undertaker recently ordered from a Boyertown casket making company nine needles used in making burial garments for the dead. The applicant wanted the needles for a "powwow" doctor to be used in warding off diseases.

The order was filled but whether or not the remedy proved efficacious is not known.

Girl Wins Fight With Father, Declared Legal Family Head

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 29. — Awarded a court decision over her father, Sarah Karp, aged 23, today was the legal head of a family of seven brothers and sisters.

Sarah, whose income barely exceeds $25 a week, told the judge that she was able to provide for the family better than her father, Louis Karp, cap manufacturer, had showed willingness to do.

The ages of Sarah's family range from 7 to 17.

EVANGELIST SPEAKS ON THE CHURCH AT REVIVAL MEETING

The Monday evening theme of Evangelist Weston of the Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church was "The Holy Spirit and the Church.

The speaker said in part: "The Holy Spirit is not an influence or force but a "Divine Personality." The English word church is derived from a Greek word meaning the "called out ones." It is not a building—it is but a meeting house for those who have been born of the Holy Spirit, and unless that takes place it is but a worldly organization.

For a church to be spiritual and successful there must be unity, harmony and oneness.

Elder & Ferry To Receive Payment

Elder & Ferry, contractors, will receive a final payment, $887.93, from the city of New Castle, having completed their work in Elizabeth street, Hillcrest avenue and William street, according to action taken by city council in regular meeting today. The payment was recommended by City Engineer Frank Miller.

Greenwood Avenue Bids Are Rejected

Greenwood avenue paving bids today were rejected by order of council. The bidders were Woods & Golder and Olsen Construction company. Checks of $500 each will be returned to the contractors. Bids for paving will be again taken next spring when the avenue will be improved.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your uphappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Americans In The Far West

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

FOR A LONG TIME AFTER THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE (1803), THE ONLY AMERICANS TO BE FOUND ON THE GREAT PLAINS EAST OF THE ROCKIES WERE SOLITARY TRAPPERS AND HUNTERS, WHO LIVED A LIFE AS WILD AS THAT OF THE INDIANS THEMSELVES.

Pirates Send Cuyler To Cubs In Exchange For Adams And Scott

Dynamic Pittsburgh Outfielder Given To Cubs For Two Players

Adams Rated As One Of Best Second Basemen In Big Leagues Today

By GEORGE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—There were smiles and tears today over news of the baseball trade which sends Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler of the Pittsburgh Pirates to Chicago in exchange for little "Sparky" Adams and Floyd Scott of the cubs.

The smiles were for Cuyler, that temperamental young batting and fielding genius whose talents wasted away on a bench through most of last year's hectic pennant race and through all of the dismal world series.

The tears were for Earl "Sparky" Adams, the gamest and most lovable little diamond warrior that ever lugged a bat to home plate. Sparky has wormed his way into the hearts of Cubs fans as no player has done in recent years, with the possible exception of Grover Cleveland Alexander, now the property of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Good Batter

Adams, like the great Alex, was more than a mere ball player. He was a Chicago institution. It was hard to think of the Cubs without thinking of the cocky little lead-off man—Sparky Adams. Because of his abbreviated stature, Sparky worked the pitchers for more free tickets to first base than any man on the team.

But it made little difference to Sparky whether he "walked or rode." He was a natural hitter and few came over in the groove that didn't receive expert attention from the little infielder. It is certain he will be welcomed and liked in Smoketown. In this connection, Chicago's loss is Pittsburgh's gain.

On the other hand less sentimental fans were overjoyed at the thought of Cuyler in a Cubs uniform. After all, baseball is a hard, practical business with the winning of pennants and world series the big problem in hand. Local experts, despite the loss of Adams, feel that Cuyler will furnish just the needed punch to change the Bruins from a third or fourth place club to a pennant winning aggregation.

Cuyler, it is believed, will soldier under "General" Joe McCarthy, the manager who last year piloted a run-down Cub machine to within a stone's throw of the flag. McCarthy has a knack of handling temperamental folks. Had his talents run in that vein, undoubtedly he would have been a director of opera.

McCarthy's master stroke last year was the appointment of the clownish Charley Grimm, another Pirate cast-off, as captain of the Bruins. At once Charley's irresponsible antics were tossed aside as an old robe and he assumed the mantle of dignity befitting a major league baseball captain.

McCarthy knew Grimm could play baseball—if he would. He figured a sense of responsibility would bring it out. It did. Local fans believe Master Joe will get the baseball out of Cuyler that this great star is capable of playing.

Participation in the Olympic yachting regatta and in a challenge match for the Scandinavian Golf Cup, together with the Spanish-American transatlantic race, means that American yachts will be quite conspicuous in European waters next Summer.

Bowling Teams Formed At B. & O. By Association

B. & O. Welfare And Athletic Association In Joint Meeting

Sixty-five members of the B. & O. Welfare and Athletic Association held an important meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, with A. P. Zeitler, president of the organization, as the presiding officer.

It was planned to stage an inter-company bowling league this year among the duckpin bowlers and the various members of the B. & O. bowling team in the Industrial League were appointed as captains of the teams.

A girls' duckpin bowling team was organized, with the following members: Misses Allebrand, Barnes, McDowell, Miller, Quinn and Whalen. T. N. Hockman has been appointed as coach of the girls' team.

Means were devised to raise funds for the equipment of a first-class basketball team this year. The B. & O. boys will be in the thick of the fight for the city league title, is the understanding.

The secretary of the association reported a membership of 65, and it is expected that this number will be more than doubled by next month.

WAMPUM INDIES PLAY TONIGHT

The Wampum Indies play the Robins Big Five of Beaver Falls tonight at the Opera House floor in Wampum.

The Valley team consists of former college and high school stars and will play their initial contest of the year against the Wampum quintet. The Indies have December 6, open for a game with any fast team in this section, games can be arranged by calling Ray Blythe at Wampum, Phone 1, between 12 o'clock noon and 6 o'clock.

Polo enjoyed the most successful season in the history of the sport in America last Summer, and the preparations now being made for indoor polo indicate that this form of the galloping game may attain a correspondingly high place.

SORDS POINTS

A Few More Than Fair Golfers

Real fighting spirit probably won the national championship for Miriam Burns Horn this year. Though there are better women golfers, better in mechanical skill, it matters little to the charming champion when she recalls the brilliant 78 she scored in the qualifying round of the national test. Mrs. Horn is a fine player, once holding the western title and has long been prominent in western affairs.

Glenna Collett has won a number of important events during the past season, and minus the putter, can match shots with the best women players in golf. On a good day with the putter she is invincible, making scores unequaled by any other American woman player.

Maureen Orcutt, the young New Jersey girl, is a powerful hitter, and with added experience may acquire the skill necessary to make her the national champ. She fought her way to the finals at Cherry Valley but played poor golf in the championship match. She is capable of turning in fine scores, often breaking 80.

Among the other prominent women golfers are Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, victor in numerous events and a frequent shatterer of 80; Dorothy Page, of Madison, Wis., who gave Mrs. Horn a good battle in the recent national; Fritzie Steifel, of Wheeling, W. Va., and Mrs. Dorothy Cambell Hurd, though a veteran, is still a strong player.

Where Stars Grow

By Feg Murray

Who were Notre Dame's greatest ball-carriers? Why is it that such a small university can produce so many star backfield men, and so many winning football teams year after year?

"Hew to the line," you may say, "let the Gipps fall where they may." But no, the backfield stars from Notre Dame at least can stand all the publicity they can get, since the late Walter Camp "chose" to honor only two of them in 36 years with positions on his first all-American teams.

It was the playing of "Red" Salmon that first attracted the eye of the "father of American football" to the Hoosier school as far back as 1902, but he did not deign to put that pile-driving line-smasher on his first team. Lou Salmon nearly beat Yost's "point-a-minute" team single-handed, and he ranked with the best punters of his day, as well as starring on the defense.

"Red" Miller was Notre Dame's next great player. His off-tackle slashes beat Michigan in 1909, and next to George Gipp, he was Notre Dame's greatest football player. Gipp, who died at the end of the 1920 season before he was chosen all-American fullback, could do everything on the football field well, and ranked only a shade below Jim Thorpe as the perfect player.

Charles Dorais, who, with Rockne, put the forward pass on the map, was a perfect field general as well as a great all-around player. "The Four Horsemen" were great because their styles blended perfectly; they were an ideal combination on the field. Christy Flanagan, the flashy halfback of 1925, 1926 and 1927, is possibly the greatest Irish ball-carrier since the "Four Horsemen" and he owes his success to speed, his brains and the help of ten well-coached teammates.

In a recent issue of a weekly magazine, Coach Rockne explained that Notre Dame is always rich in football material, and that, being an isolated boarding school, there are no outside distractions for the boys as there are at larger and more centrally located institutions. Intramural games and intensive rivalry between the 12 halls is a great help in developing players, and the coach can pick his team from a squad of about 200.

Feg Murray Says—

The headwork of Lou Young, coach of the University of Pennsylvania team, could not be questioned in the Harvard game. He certainly used his Scull.

Captain Smith's Season Is Over

Issues Last Call For Golf Club Owners To Get Their Property

Captain V. Arthur Smith, professional at the golf course of the New Castle Field club, completes his official golf season on Wednesday for the present year.

There is in his possession approximately 100 sets of clubs belonging to various persons, who followed the ancient and honorable game during the summer season, which must be secured by Wednesday.

Unless secured by that time, the owners assume their own risk concerning these clubs. It is desired that all owners of clubs yet in possession of Mr. Smith get them and take them home.

Floor Notes

The Temple Israel Sophomores defeated the Crisci Five 53 to 24 in a floor game played at the Temple gym on Saturday night. Ginsberg, Yaffee and Siegler led the attack for the winners, with Crisci and Rosenberg the best for the losers.

The Buccaneer basketball team will open their floor season on Wednesday night at the Mahoningtown gym floor, by meeting the Mahoningtown Aces. A pre-season victory 34 to 11 was secured over the Butler Aces at Butler recently. The Buccaneers would like to meet the following teams: Houser-Kennedy, Trojans, Temple Isarel, Jrs., Flint Motors, or any first class high school team in Lawrence county. For games call Edward Linton, manager of the Buccaneers at 563-W or write to 412 Epworth street.

The Rick-Overlands will play the Hubbard, Ohio, Merchants at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Wednesday night, it was announced today. The big game of the evening will be preceded by a preliminary contest at 7:30 o'clock, between the Liberty Five and the Temple Israel team. The Overlands recently opened their season by defeating the Erie "Tenth" team 30 to 13.

Tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. the Temple Israel basketball team will clash with the Liberty Five. The game will be played as a preliminary to the Rick-Overland-Hubbard Merchant game and will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The Temple Israel Sophs defeated the Mahoning Five by a score of 27 to 23 in a game played at the Temple floor on Monday night. W. Ginsberg and Sigler were the big stars for the winners, with Domenick and Thompson the best bets for the Mahoning Five.

The Liberty Five will hold an important basketball practice tonight at the Y. M. C. A. court at 9:30, said Coach "Bub" Jones today. The Liberty Five has scheduled the Temple Israel team for a game tomorrow night.

Dunn To Pilot Rocco Tonight

Jack McAuliffe To Be Rocco's Foe In Youngstown Bout

FITZGERALD AND SOLOMON TO BOX

Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland will have complete charge of Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City heavyweight when he fights Jack McAuliffe, Detroit heavyweight in a 10 round bout at Rayen-Wood auditorium, Youngstown, tonight.

Joe Cumo, manager of Rocco, has made an arrangement with Dunn whereby the former New Castle fighter, now a manager and a trainer in Cleveland, will supervise Rocco's study of the gentle art of hit and make 'em miss.

Around these diggings, nothing much is known of Jack McAuliffe. True, it is, several years ago he received considerable space as a heavyweight prospect but he has done no fighting in this vicinity and naturally one cannot go on past events.

When he fought around New York he had speed and grace. He is a clever, big fellow and expects to give Rocco considerable left handing tonight. Rocco is a rugged individual who bores in and like the Durable Dane, Battling Nelson of fame a decade ago, has a habit of wearing foes down then knocking them out.

Mickie Solomon, New Castle's 142 pounder will fight Freddy Fitzgerald, a veritable tornado on feet, in the 6 round semi-final. Probabilities are this fight will prove one of the feature events of the evening's fistic program. There are three other bouts. Many local fans will witness the fights.

Billy Evans Will Manage Cleveland

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—Billy Evans known to the baseball world as one of the best umpires in the country will no longer call balls and strikes. It was announced by President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians that Evans would take over the duties as general manager of the club to succeed E. S. Bernard, former president and now prexy of the American league. In his new capacity Evans will be executive head of the club.

Temple University of Philadelphia, which this year won seven out of its eight games against strong opponents, made a most surprising showing for an institution which did not start football until three years ago.

Football Committee Of W. P. I. A. L. Will Meet On Wednesday

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of Senior high school today received word from Pittsburgh that the W. P. I. A. L. football committee will hold a session Wednesday night of this week at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Gardner is a member of the committee that will try to solve the problem of the 1927 football championship of the W. P. I. A. L. There are eight other members of this board.

The committee will be faced with the proposition of trying to settle the championship claims via the point system adopted by the league at their spring meeting. If it is found that the point system is unsatisfactory, owing to the mixed schedules of the various schools this year, then in all probability no championship awards will be made.

There are five schools in the race for the title this year: Greensburg, Jeannette, Clairton, Westinghouse and New Castle. Of the five schools in the running for the title, but three of them have first-class claims to the title, Greensburg, Jeannette and New Castle having defeated several of the strongest teams in the W. P. I. A. L.

The Syracuse trophy cup committee will award the handsome silver cup to the school designated by the football committee, it is understood.

It is definitely understood that the award next year will be made by use of the point system and that the various schools in the league will be given proper classifications prior to the scheduling of games. By classifications it is meant that schools with small enrollments will be given class B ratings and that schools with larger enrollments will be class A teams.

There has been considerable speculation since the close of the season on just what team would be selected this year, and the matter will be thrashed out Wednesday.

Berry Makes Good At Grove City In Initial Season

Grovers Complete Successful Grid Season Under Berry Tutledge

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 29.—Just a little over a year ago Grove City college football fans were shocked and disappointed by the news of Charley Bowser's resignation to accept a coaching position at the University of Pittsburgh. Little did they realize that a new man would be obtained to fill Bowser's popular and successful place at Grove City who might lead crimson teams to as great heights of success as the former Pitt center had led them. Out of a list of many candidates for the position the athletic board of athletic control at Grove City selected Charles Berry, Lafayette college and all-American end to head coaching post in charge of crimson football.

Berry came to Grove City after the colege had experienced two very successful seasons under Coach Bowser, during which two tri-state championships had been won by crimson elevens. From the undefeated team of 1926 no less than ten letter men were missing on the 1927 squad of which Berry assumed control in the latter part of September. Only five letter men from the 1926 team greeted Coach Berry this season. On a varsity squad of 27 men there were 18 first year men. With a green squad and a new coach there is little wonder that Grove City supporters looked upon the approaching 1927 with a great deal of uncertainty.

However Berry went about his coaching duties from the very first as though he had been coaching for years. His team closed the season last Thursday with only two defeats chalked up against them. Grove City scored a total of 195 points to a total of 53 for its opponents. The crimson offense of the past season was one of variety and power. The defense was as good as could be expected from a squad of players, most of whom were playing their first year of college football. Only three letter men graduate from the 18 letter men of the past season. Coach Berry should bring still greater success to Grove City college football during the 1928 season.

City League To Open December 12

City Floor League To Start Play Monday, December 12, Is Decided

The City Floor League will open their 1927-28 basketball season Monday night, Dec. 12, according to an outline adopted by the managers and officials at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A.

There will be two games a week for the City League teams, on Monday and Saturday nights. The season has been divided into two halves with the winners of the first half playing the winners of the second half.

A meeting of the officials of the circuit to adopt the playing schedule for this season has been called for Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock.

Davis Walsh Picks All-American Team

Difficult Task This Year In Selecting All- American Elevens

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
(Copyright, 1927, by International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A few years back, a vaudeville pair used to get a laugh by announcing, "We will now do a trick that is absolutely impossible." Today the writer will do that trick, too. He will name eleven men on his all-American football team for 1927, just as though he didn't know that there are a thousand good ones out through the country and the eleven best probably could not be infallibly and definitely declared this side of the hereafter.

Now does one know that Welch is a better halfback than Presnell or that Nash is one of two stand-out ends to the ultimate annoyance of Born, Colo, Scott, Matthews, Le Crone and others? Obviously, one does not. One merely knows that Welch was more sensational than was Presnell the only time they met, and that, while one scout in the South might regard Nash as no better, if as good as his teammate, Shiver, the general idea down there is that Nash is a combination of Bonar and Winslett, and it is fair to assume that no team can have two ends like that at one and the same time.

Clearing House

The writer, therefore, considers himself merely a clearing house for the views of coaches and observers all over the country in making these selections. As a matter of fact, the games he personally witnessed served more to eliminate than install possible candidates. He saw Sprague of the Army play two fine games at tackle against Notre Dame and the Navy and is thoroughly satisfied with the selection. Smith of Notre Dame looked the part of a good, steady guard, much along the lines of Webster of Yale, the inspiring leader of a very strong offensive line. So outstanding guards being few, this pair gets the call.

As for Oosterbaan at end, Spears at quarterback and Drury at halfback, they simply cannot miss. Oosterbaan's passing and receiving, in addition to his defensive end play, puts him in automatically; Spears is the greatest back the South has seen in years and Drury's running against Stanford and California, irrespective of his work in the Notre Dame game, leaves one no alternative but to name him with all seemly haste. Hibbs, like Sprague, is big, strong, fast and aggressive and altogether seems to be about as good as they come.

Bettencourt, up withthe good ones for several years, reached his peak at center in 1927. If he hadn't, he might have missed again, for the South was extremely insistent about the great capabilities of Butcher and there were a lot of high-class men who wouldn't be out of place on any man's team.

Joesting Great Fullback

Joesting wasn't quite the man-eater who tore opposing lines to tatters in 1926. But who can name a better man among the fullbacks of today? If they can, I'll simply have to relinquish the rungless stepladder to them and let it go at that.

The real difficulty, however, doesn't come in picking eleven men. It is found when it becomes necessary to place players like Kern, Butcher, Douds, Presnell and McCrary on a second team and Shiver, Hunt and Gobert on a third. For all anyone knows, Gobert might be the greatest back in the country, for it appears that he can do anything and everything sensationally and well. But, then, almost any back of the nine names is that type.

As an indication of its representative quality the first team includes three men from the East, three from the Middle West, three from the coast and two from the South. Princeton doesn't place a man on the first three elevens and Illinois only one. Both were first-class teams, but they lacked stand-out stars, at least in the writer's opinion.

Honorable Mention

However, it may be possible to pick a better team than mine from the following list of honorable mention players, a list, by the way, which undoubtedly is far from complete:

Ends: Voedisch, Notre Dame; Moeser, Princeton; Scott, Yale; Sloane, Navy; Harbold, Army; Donchess, Pittsburgh; Phillips, California; Le Crone, Oklahoma; Jennings, Centenary; Martindale, Utah Aggies; Crowley, Georgia Tech; F. Scull, Pennsylvania; Barna, Hobart; Schuh, Washington, Taufer, Utah; Brown, Missouri; Bowker, Tufts; Fiswick, Yale; Lawler, Princeton; Tomaini, Georgetown; Rankin, Colorado Aggies; Dawson, Southern Methodist, and Timm, Colgate.

Tackles: Nowack, Illinois; Quarrier, Yale; Roach, Southern Methodist; Coltrin, California; Nake, Pennsylvania; Higgins, Texas; Randels, Nebraska; Pickhard, Alabama; Tinsley, Louisiana State; Dikeman, Utah; Barfield, Princeton; Rsskowski, Ohio State; Corbett, Brigham Young; Norris, Oklahoma; Miller, Notre Dame; Pratt, Harvard; Fitzgerald, Tufts, Eddy, Yale; Gary, Minnesota; Weinstock, Western Maryland; Nelson, Iowa, and Lucas, Missouri.

Guards: Cervini, Holy Cross; Miller, Missouri; Blake, Princeton; Woerner, Navy; Smith, Georgia; Gibbons, Utah Aggies; Barnhill, Tennessee; Post, Stanford; Bunyon, N. Y. U.; French, Princeton; Miller, Amherst; O'Brien, Boston College; Roberts, Pittsburgh; Seeman, Army; Tips, Washington and Lee; Dumont, Colgate; Crane, Illinois, and Walterskirchen, Gonsaga.

Here And There In Sports' Land

By ED. FRITZ

Bruised and battered under a systematic two-fisted attack by Willie Harmon, his right eye slit open and his left side a florid red, Young Sailor, Charleroi's prospect for welterweight honors was technically knocked out last night at Motor Square Garden, Pittsburgh when seconds tossed in the sponge in the 15th round. The youngster from Charleroi was outclassed. Another case of a youngster being sent too fast along the fistic route.

Eddie Collins has announced the signing of a contract with Connie Mack to continue with the Athletics and probabilities are that the star second baseman will be a permanent fixture on the roster of the club until he ends his baseball career. "I toldCollins I wanted him and wanted him for good" said Mack today. "He is still good enough to play regularly although he will act as emergency man at second but he is a vital cog in our machinery" is the way Mack expressed himself.

Hazen Cuyler one of the National league favorites and who has been in a pail of hot water as a member of the Pirates for several months has been turned over to the Chicago Cubs for Infielder Earl Adams and Outfielder Floyd Scott and the future alone can only tell whether the Pirates or the Cubs got the best of the deal. Adams has been a favorite with Cub fans while Scott has been a substitute.

Billy Evans, popular American League umpire, has been selected manager of the Cleveland Indians, according to dispatches from Cleveland today. His appointment was announced by President Alva Bradley at an informal dinner tendered sport editors and baseball writers last night. But while the game loses a good umpire, Cleveland fans believe they will see a good man at the helm of the Indians. He knows all the American League players, their weak and strong points and this should be an aid in his direction of the club.

Joe Cumo, manager of Emmett Rocco, has placed the destinies of the Ellwood City heavyweight in the hands of Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland, according to Dunn's letter to the writer today. Dunn has been anxious to participate in the management of Cumo for some time. Dunn has developed many good fighters and sent one of them, Johnny Kilbane to the featherweight throne. Dunn and Kilbane are in a partnership now and Kilbane is giving considerable of his attention to Johnny Datto, featherweight. Dunn will teach Rocco.

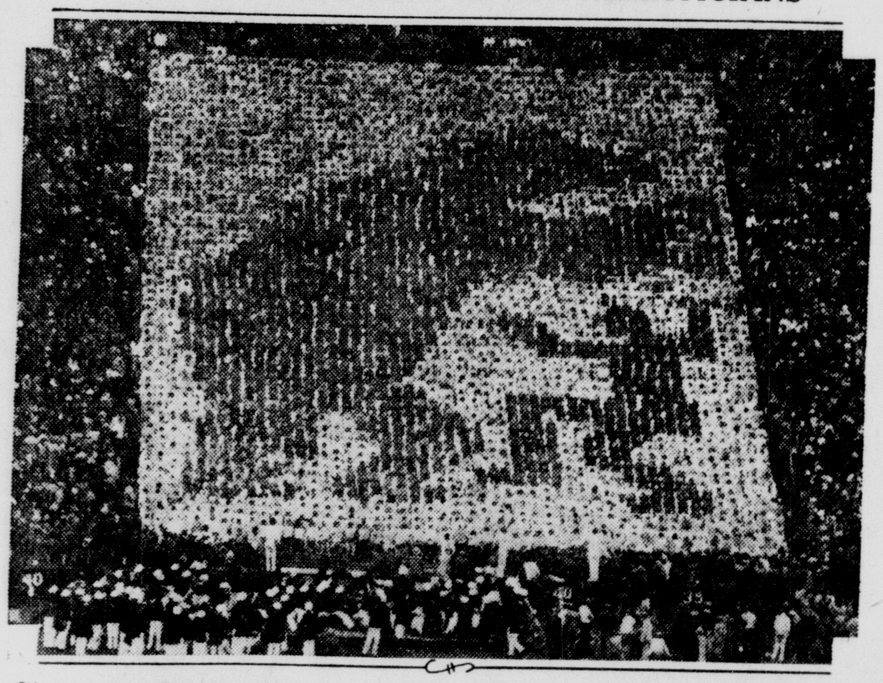
CHEER LEADERS MUST BE MATHEMATICIANS



It's getting so college cheer leaders must have first rate knowledge of trigonometry and algebra. And they really should carry a slide rule and surveying instruments. For they—with the assistance of a block of rooters—form all sorts of figures. Above, for instance, is the "California Bear overwhelming the Stanford Brave." The photo was taken at the University of California-Stanford University game, won by the latter, 13 to 6, before 90,000 spectators.

I'm getting mine with a pipe and P. A.

HAVE you never bent over a tidy red tin and caught that marvelous P. A. fragrance? Only a great tobacco could smell as good as that. You prove how good it is on the very first fire-up. What a taste, Men!

Cool as an immigration-officer. Sweet as getting in. Mild and mellow as you expect a smoke to be, yet with that full-bodied flavor that makes every puff a pleasant experience. I wish I could put the taste right on your tongue, but you'll have to do that.

P. A. in a pipe is cool and long-burning, right to the bottom of the bowl. This one brand is bought by more men than any other tobacco in the world. There's only one way to account for that—P. A.'s quality!

The sooner you get started, the better. A load of P. A. in the bowl of your pipe will be a load off your mind. And I don't mean that for any wise-crack. No matter what your present program is, try Prince Albert on the word of a friend. I'm telling you straight, you'll make no mistake.

More for your money in every way—TWO full ounces in every tin.

PRINCE ALBERT

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 29.—And a chat with the only sporting editor in captivity who ever dragged a major league baseball team across the continent to entertain himself.

That man is F. W. Mosebach, sporting editor of the San Antonio Express.

Mosebach, writing sports then, had been following closely the doings of the Cinci Reds, the Giants and the other National and Western league clubs during the playing seasons back in the '90s, but had never seen a major league club in action. Seeing no way of getting where the teams were he finally decided to bring a ball team to San Antonio.

In the winter of 1897-98 he wrote to Buck Ewing, then manager of the Cinci Reds, suggesting San Antonio as a training site for the team. Ewing became interested, wrote for information regarding the grounds, hotel accommodations, etc., and turned the information Mosebach sent to Ashley Lloys, treasurer of the club.

The suggestion was accepted. The Reds journeyed out to San Antonio—and Mosebach had his big league baseball.

That was the years the Reds had the famous "pretzel" battery, says Mosebach. "Breitenstein and Pietz. It was the last year that Biddy McPhee, the great old infielder, played. McPhee was one of the few infielders to play through his career without a glove. He never wore one.

"Harry Steinfeldt broke into the big leagues that year, too. He was a Texas boy—Fort Worth."

Texas had had, however, a major league club as a visitor before that. The old White Stockings trained at Galveston as far back as 1887-88.

Major league clubs have frequented Texas in the last 25 years—San Antonio, Mineral Wells, Eagle Pass, Seguin, Brownsville, Houston, Waxahatchie and several other cities being selected at various times by the different National and American league clubs.

Then along came the Florida urge—and an unfortunate bit of weather for the Cleveland Indians, lugged to Texas by Tris Speaker to show his home folks how his major league club looked in training.

Next spring the Detroit Tigers will give Mosebach some more big league baseball in his own front yard and the possibilities are that by 1929 there'll be two or three other clubs in that section—including the Giants and Braves.

Overlands Play Hubbard Tonight

The Rick-Overland basketball team will clash with the Hubbard Merchants at the Y. M. C. A. floor tonight. The game will start immediately following the Liberty Five-Temple Israel game. The first game starts at 7:30 o'clock.

The Overlands won the opening game of the year from the Erie "Tenth" team and they hope to continue their winning streak.

Reggie McNamara, will compete in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden again this year, has won thirteen six-day races, which surpasses the record of any other rider.

In Syria it is the custom, when a boy baby cuts his first tooth, to prepare a special cooked wheat dish to send to the friends and relatives.

ORDINANCE NO. 58

An Ordinance authorizing and directing the Borough of Enon Valley in the County of Lawrence, State of Pennsylvania, to enter into and execute an agreement with Harmony Electric Company, for lighting the streets, alleys, highways and public places of said Borough of Enon Valley, with electric lights.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Borough of Enon Valley in council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that the said Borough enter into and execute an agreement with Harmony Electric Company, in form set forth in Section II of this Ordinance, providing for the lighting of the streets, alleys, highways and public places of said city.

Section II. "This agreement, made and entered into this ——— day of ———, 1927, by and between Harmony Electric Company, hereafter called 'Electric Company', party of the first part, and the Borough of Enon Valley, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, hereafter called 'Borough', party of the second part,

WITNESSETH, That in consideration of the payments, covenants and agreements hereinafter contained to be paid, kept and performed, it is mutually agreed between the parties hereto, their successors and assigns, as follows:

FIRST. The said Electric Company agrees to install nineteen (19) one hundred and in some cases two hundred fifty candle-power, clear incandescent lamps at the following intersections, to-wit: as per blue print.

SECOND. The term of this contract is to be for five (5) years from the date of commencement of service.

THIRD. The lights are to be operated from dusk until dawn of each day; unless a shorter period is at any time designated by the Borough Council, an automatic switch to turn on and shut off the lights to be installed and maintained by the Electric Company.

FOURTH. The length of each arm is to be decided upon by two members of the Borough Light Committee and a Representative of the Electric Company.

FIFTH. The Borough agrees to pay the Electric Company the sum of Nineteen Hundred ($1900.00) Dollars toward the construction of said street lighting system, the same to cover the Borough's part of the first nineteen lamps installed, payment to be made as follows:

One-half thereof at the end of one (1) year.

One-half thereof at the end of two (2) years, without interest.

All additional street lights on this established circuit shall be installed at cost of $40.00 each.

SIXTH. All future renewals of lamps shall be paid for by the Borough.

SEVENTH. The Borough shall have access to the street lighting meter and switching apparatus, the same to be installed at a location selected and furnished by the Borough.

EIGHTH. The Borough agrees to pay the net tariff rate of five (5) cents per kilowatt hour for all electric current consumed in street lighting, all payments to be made not later than the tenth of each month, covering the preceding month, in accordance with tariff on file with the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania.

NINTH. All lamps shall be supported approximately eighteen or twenty feet from the surface of the street, and whenever possible at the intersection of cross connecting streets.

TENTH. All lights shall be located at such points as may be designated herein.

ELEVENTH. The Borough reserves the right at any time to change the candle power of any lamps installed under this contract.

TWELFTH. The maintenance of poles, wires, cross arms, insulators, mast arms and fixtures shall be at the expense of the Electric Company.

THIRTEENTH. The cost of printing and publishing the ordinance authorizing this contract shall be paid by the Electric Company.

FOURTEENTH. The Borough has the right to erect police and fire-alarm wires on the poles involved in this system, but same shall be located in such manner as to not interfere with the use thereof by the Electric Company.

This agreement is made in duplicate, and either copy thereof may be taken and used as the original, and shall be binding upon and inure to the parties hereto, their successors and assigns, respectively.

It is hereby understood and agreed that neither the purpose, intent, nor obligation of this contract, if and when approved by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is such as to impair or in any wise affect the exercise of said Commission of any of the powers vested in it by the Public Service Company Law, approved July 26, 1913.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the said Electric Company has caused its corporate seal to be affixed hereto by its President, attested by its Secretary, in pursuance of proper authority authorizing the same, and the said Borough has caused this agreement to be signed by its President of Council, attested by its Secretary of Council, and has attached hereto its common and corporate seal in pursuance of the provisions of an ordinance duly passed, approved and advertised as required by law, authorizing the same to be done, the day and year aforesaid.

HALL OF FAME

HAROLD CUTBILL

Nominating Harold C. Cutbill.

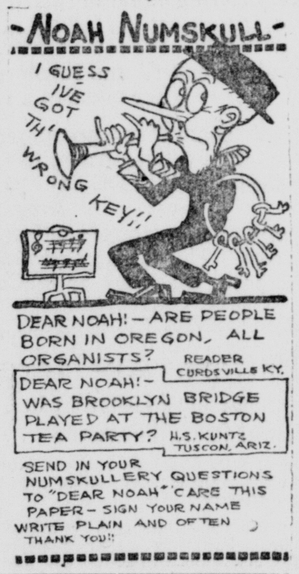
Because he once shared with Joey Ray, the world's indoor record of 2:13 2-5 for 1,000 yards, which was beaten by Lloyd Hahn last winter.

Because he is in excellent condition, having continued practice after being barred in 1923 for infraction of the rules.

Because up to that time he was one of the most popular figures on the track.

Because he has presented application for reinstatement in the A. A. U.

And because, in addition to being a runner he is also a clergyman.



N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The motor stocks and the specialties were the leaders in a moderate recovery of prices at the beginning of trading today. A sharp advance in some of the high priced specialties emphasized the difficulties of the "shorts" in extricating themselves from the snares of the bullish pools. The mercantile stocks were active and buoyant, under the lead of Montgomery, which sold at $100 a share for the first time in its history.

A new 65-point jump in Ford Motor of Canada, on the curb market was the only possible expression of the effect of the completion of the new Ford car on security values. The Canadian subsidiary of the Ford interests has advanced from 393 to 700 since the early part of the year. A gain of more than 300 points, 130 of which have been scored since the middle of last week. Motor stocks on the big board have thus far ignored the return of Ford competition, though some liquidation of General Motors has been traced to that source.

"Courteous" Youths Rob Columbus Man

CLEVELAND, Nov. 29.—W. L. Dawson of Columbus, O., drove up to three neatly dressed young men last night and asked them the way to Shaker Boulevard. They agreed to ride with him and show him the way. They directed him to a lonely spot when one of them produced a gun. They took $6, a watch, two rings and his coupe.

Poland-Lithuania Ask For "Justice" From League Power

Marshal Pilsudski To Make Personal Appeal And Deny Allegations

(International News Service)

The Polish-Lithuanian territorial quarrel, which has engaged the attention of the powers for the past few days, marked time today pending the meeting of the League of Nations Council. Both Poland and Lithuania will make appeals to the League for "justice."

Marshall Pilsudski, the soldier-president of Poland, is preparing to go to Geneva to appear before the League in person to deny the allegations of Lithuania and Soviet Russia that Poland is preparing for war against Lithuania.

A political struggle for control of the government of Lithuania has followed the growing friction between Poland and Lithuania. Opposition factions in Lithuania, supported by a group of army officers, are trying to oust Premier Valdemaras and form a new government. So far President Smetona's attempts at reconciliation have failed. The opposition, or Nationalist faction, in Lithuania favors an aggressive policy on the Polish issue.

For the time being Soviet Russia's attention is turned almost wholly to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament conference at Geneva. The Soviet and German delegations are trying, but without success so far, to induce the powers to broaden the scope of discussions to include universal disarmament.

Jersey Pastor Offers To Try Channel Swim To Aid Church Fund

(International News Service)

JERSEY, Channel Islands, Nov. 29—In an effort to raise funds to complete his half-finished church, Rev. W. Herbert Quarrie is willing to make an attempt to swim the Channel for a monetary reward.

Of splendid physique he is known locally as the fighting parson on account of his fistic prowess. He is a strong swimmer, only a few years ago having swum nine miles from St. Heller to Corbiere.

About $40,000 is required to finish the church and clear a bank overdraft of $12,500.

Lost Explorers Face Starvation On Utah Desert

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 29.—Anxiety increased today over the failure of army radio or Indian runners to locate a film company exploration party which left Green River, Wyo., 16 days ago with 10 days' rations to explore Colorado river.

The party of 13 was headed by E. C. Larue, formerly of the United States hydrographic survey, who had made a complete survey of the treacherous course. They had six specially constructed boats with which to battle the rapids.

Reports from the army radio station at Camp Pearson, Painted Desert, Ariz., stated that after more than four days of continuous effort to get in touch with the party, nothing had been received except a signal believed to have been the call letters of a portable radio.

Sergeant Redding, in charge of the Camp Pearson station, has asked for airplanes to aid in the search, but pilots here pointed out the Colorado gorge is more than a mile deep in many places and so narrow as to make flying at low altitudes dangerous.

Old Egyptian Scroll Finally Deciphered

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Little did a young Egyptian, who 4000 years ago scrawled something on a thin sheet of leather, realize the trouble he was originating.

For over 50 years he kept the British museum guessing.

The scroll came to the museum in 1875. It was so brittle that it had to be treated with a special solution before it could be unrolled.

Learned men declared it was a scribe's ready reckoner. The Egyptians were always poor fellows at adding up, that they sent their figures in a dial to the local scribe to work out.

But, S. R. Glanville, translator of Egyptian hieroglyphics, has spoilt the old story. "This," he said, "is a sheet of schoolboy's addition sums. Moreover, one of the sums is wrong."

A machine that can smoke a dozen pipes at once now saves the smoker the distasteful job of breaking in" a new briar or meerschaum. Equipped with mechanical mouth and lungs, it "ages" a pipe in a way that ordinarily require weeks of steady use.

English Village Buys Mayor's Gold Chain On 70 Annual Payments

(International News Service)

MIDDLESBROUGH, Eng., Nov. 29.—The mayor and ex-mayors of Middlesbrough expressed great surprise when they learnt that the old mayoral chain is being bought on the installment system.

The secret was revealed by the borough treasurer, who stated that although it was bought 50 years ago at a cost of $1250, only $885 had been paid off.

At the present rate of redemption it is estimated that it will take another 20 years before the full amount is paid.

MESSAGE TO GARCIA

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29.—The desk sergeant at the Safety building called Patrolmen Loehrke and Bender into his private office, closed the door and clearing his throat, said: "Gentlemen, I have an important message for you to deliver." "That so?" answered the policemen. "Yes," said the sergeant, "This is a message to Garcia." "What, another one?" exclaimed the policemen. "It's extremely important," the sergeant continued and whispered something in their ears. After a while the policemen were back. "We delivered the document, sarge." "Aw (on! honest?" "Yap, positutely, his full name is Gonzalo Garcia."

Four Thousand Christmas Trees Will Arrive In City For Coming Holiday Season

Yes, it is an established fact that Santa is coming to New Castle this year. Even now his army of workers are felling Christmas trees by the thousands in the woods of Maine and New Hampshire. In a very short time they will be packed in bundles, the bundles placed in huge box cars, and start merrily on their way to bring joy to little boys and girls.

Two or three cars of trees will arrive in New Castle December 15 and will be distributed here. And two cars of trees, mind you, represent some 1,200 bundles, or about 4,000 trees.

Of course, there will be all sorts of trees. Tall cedars, graceful spruces and jolly little pines on which the lights twinkle so pleasantly—all will be in the cars, and all will find their way into some New Castle home.

Along with the trees there will come many other things. Holly, laurel, ground pine and wreaths will be here, to be used in making the home more bright and cheery during the holiday season.

And for those who are older—just a trifle older—there will be the old fashioned mistletoe to be hung on the door lintel, for—well, everyone knows what for.

Yes, and there will be fruit. Cars of oranges, bananas, nuts, or whatever you may wish are now pounding over the rails, to be here when the Christmas season starts.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There was a time, not so long ago, when New Castle seldom got a big time theatrical attraction. One could go to Pittsburgh or Cleveland to see them or read about them in the papers. There was no place to house them in this city for all the available theatres were taken up with pictures or vaudeville.

How different it has been in the past season and a half. The big city attractions now consider it an opportunity to be allowed to play New Castle for they produce their show in a theatre that is the talk of the theatrical world, the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

In the theatrical profession the reputation of a theatre or a town spreads fast and the booking offices and the players are all anxious to get a show into the cathedral here.

Just this season alone we have had some of the best things on the road. "Out of the Night" played here and is now playing to capacity in New York. The road edition of the Follies was here, The Beggar's Opera was here, Robert Mantell and Genevieve Hamper and tonight William Hodge in "Straight Thru the Door." A little later and we have "The King's Henchman" with us, that lovely American opera by Deems Taylor.

Anywhere that Jimmy Thomas is gathered together, there is always bound to be an argument. Jimmy is one of the big, outstanding firemen of our fair city and has the faculty of precipitating an argument by merely a passing remark upon the weather. Last night he presented a discourse in Louie's place on the south side concerning the hazards of the department.

I'm still wondering why he had to take official notice of the fact that Shug Williams has gone to work again.

Once in a while a mechanical piano is given a piece of music that sounds good, and that one on Washington Street playing Christmas music yesterday was worth listening to. But when they put on a variegated rendition of Victor Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song," the spell was broken.

Saw a picture yesterday of the site of The Castleton two years ago and its appearance now. What a whale of a difference a few bricks makes. Where once there was a collection of little old wooden houses is now a handsome structure, filling a need, and pleasing the eye.

New Castle Man Gets Another Stay On 60 Day Sentence

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 29.—Illness of his wife has won another stay of execution for John Burns, New Castle contractor, under sentence of 60 days in county jail. Burns was arrested last June and found guilty of driving an automobile while drunk. He was also fined $100 and costs.

At the time he posted $1,000 bond for appearance at the county jail November 1. The stay of execution was granted when Burns and his friends pointed out that he had a number of contracts to fulfill and could only work during the summer months. He said that if it was imperative that he start the jail sentence before November he would have to forfeit several large contracts which would be detrimental to his business and also cause him heavy financial loss.

Friends posted the bond and he has since been at liberty. Shortly before he was to begin sentence he appeared before Judge Thomas Jenkins and asked for further extension owing to the fact that he had been appointed receiver for a telephone company and could not wind up affairs by November 1.

He agreed at that time to appear voluntarily November 23 and start serving the sentence but last Saturday he again pleaded illness of his wife as the cause. The request was granted and the time extended to December 3. A number of prominent New Castle business men accompanied him when he called on Judge Jenkins and Law Director Lewis.

Judge Jenkins said yesterday that there would be no further extension of time but that Burns would be allowed time out during the holiday season to return January 2 to complete the sentence.

The bond of $1,000 was continued to guarantee Burns' appearance.

Men's Bible Class Elects Officers

Grove City Group Has Been Prominent In Affairs Of First U. P. Church

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 29.—The Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church announced the election of officers for the first six months term of next year yesterday.

A meeting was held last week for the election and the announcement was made yesterday of the results:

Officers chosen are as follows: President, H. F. Smith; vice president, T. W. McNight; secretary, E. R. Cox; assistant secretary, J. E. Black; treasurer, P. C. Hassler. The Bible class has been very prominent in church affairs since their organization being one of the most active organized groups in the church.

AGE FORTY—DANGER

Most people are dead at 60 because their vital forces begin to wane around age of 40. Elderly people fall easy victims to colds which often develop into pneumonia.

Enrich and fortify your blood. Stimulate your resistance. Remember that for a few cents you can get Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea from your druggist. Take it hot to break up your cold. Wise mothers and fathers make it their winter health guardian.
